they could to stop water and sewage from backing up into residents' houses. By Tuesday, they turned their efforts to holding back the Shawsheen River as it rose over its banks, flooding more houses and streets, including Route 28 at Shawsheen Plaza.

More than 10 inches of rain saturated the area during the first 36 hours of the storm, start-

Finegold and Fox fighting it out to the finish

By Neil Fater

Following a week of testy exchanges – and after accusing one another of launching personal attacks – Republican James Fox and Democrat Barry Finegold vowed they will spend the next two weeks focusing on issues.

Voters will go to the polls Tuesday, Nov. 5, to choose which candidate will represent them as state representative for the 17th Essex District.

The candidates did focus on issues long enough at a League of Women Voters' debate Oct. 17, and during follow-up interviews this week, to expose clear differences between themselves.

Asked what the two most important questions facing the state are, for instance, Mr. Fox answered cutting taxes and downsizing government, while Mr. Finegold's answer was improving education and expanding community policing.

Mr. Finegold said Tuesday if he's elected he'll fight "to make sure that we have the proper technology for our schools, that we have student-teacher ratios of 21 or 20 (to 1) and (that we)

Hot state-rep campaign boils over

What has become a hotly-contested state-representative campaign boiled over this weekend when a citizen complaint by a Barry Finegold supporter led to the Andover police questioning Republican candidate James Fox.

Police investigated and cleared Mr. Fox of soliciting votes while in uniform as an auxiliary policeman, although Mr. Fox admits he did ask one couple to vote for him.

The incident came Saturday, just two days after a League of Women Voters debate characterized by heated exchanges between the candidates and loaded questions from supporters in the audience.

Saturday's incident occurred while Mr. Fox, an unpaid auxiliary policeman, was directing traffic at Sanborn Elementary School's Spooky Fun Fair Kurt Landry, 11 years old, and his dad, Joe Landry, hold their pet mouse, called Scrappy.

Mouse still roars

Scrappy Landry is the pet mouse of Kurt Landry, a sixth-grader at Doherty Middle School. Kurt got the mouse last Christmas as a present from his cousin and named her Scrappy. Kurt's brother, Walter, got a mouse, too, Scrappy's twin sister, Ping. Joe Landry, Kurt's father, thinks that the mice were laboratory bred. Ping's health is fine, but the family is watching her.

"The mouse was having trouble getting around," says Mr. Landry, referring to Scrappy. "I didn't want to spring it on the kids that their pet was going to have to go away."

He brought the mouse to Bulger Animal Hospital in North Andover, hoping for a miracle.

Dr. David Wirth presented them with the three options. First, operate. Second, euthanize the mouse. Third, wait and see how long she lasts.

The age of the mouse, its quality of life, and the expense of the operation all had to be considered.

"We don't do many of these. Not too many people are willing to spend the $75 on a mouse," says Dr. Wirth.

The mouse is in the latter half of its life (40 to 50 years old in mouse years, one year old in human years). Scrappy couldn't possibly be expected to go on forever dragging an unwanted growth across the ground.

Kurt and his father did not have to discuss it long. They chose to operate.

Dr. Wirth prepared the operating room. A tiny mouse mask was cut out of syringe casing and a rubber glove to administer a gas anesthetic. In less than 30 minutes the tumor had been removed.

Last week, Scrappy Landry went in for her post operation check-up to remove the eight stitches.

"It's been four weeks since the surgery. She's doing great," says Dr. Wirth.

Kurt reports that his mouse is back to normal.

"She runs around and plays a lot of cool stuff," says Kurt. "That's pretty much what mice do except sleeping and eating."

Expectedly, Kurt is glad to see Scrappy doing well.

"She's part of the family," says Kurt "I didn't want to kill it."

'She's part of the family. I didn't want to kill it.'

ABC seeks addresses of former students

Andover ABC (A Better Chance) will celebrate its 30th anniversary next year. One hundred students have graduated in that time. The anniversary committee is seeking current addresses of all former ABC students so they may be informed about special events planned for the anniversary celebration. Call Patty Burke at 474-0522 with any information.

SHARE food packages ready Saturday

Those who purchased food packages through Andover SHARE should pick them up at Faith Lutheran Church, 360 S. Main St., Saturday, Oct. 26, between 10:30 and 11:30 a.m. Anyone who would like to purchase November's package, to be delivered Nov. 23, may sign up. For the first time SHARE is offering a holiday package in addition to its regular package. The holiday package will include a 8-10 pound turkey and all the fixings for a Thanksgiving dinner and will cost $1 more than the regular package ($15 plus $1 for transportation).

Everyone is eligible to take part in SHARE regardless of age or income. You do not have to be an Andover resident. If you pay $14 per package in cash or food stamps and pledge to do two hours of community service (of your choosing) you can participate.

Anyone wanting to register for a November package but is unable to come Saturday, Oct. 26, may register on Monday, Nov. 4, from 9:30-10:30 a.m. in the Community Room at Andover Commons on 30 Railroad St. or on Tuesday, Nov. 5, from 7-8 p.m. at Faith Lutheran Church.

Fighting cancer, Step by Step

By Neil Fater

When Candace Bachner helped organize Andover's first Step by Step walk-a-thon to raise money for cancer research, she knew several school employees who'd been diagnosed with cancer. Now, as the third walk approaches, Ms. Bachner is one of those employees herself.

"It is a little ironic that I should get cancer," admits Ms. Bachner, a Sanborn kindergarten teacher who continues to work. "The first year we did it, it was because there were so many teachers, but also parents and people in the administration, dealing with cancer. Either they had lived with it or died with it."

Ms. Bachner makes it clear she is one who has decided to live with her ovarian cancer. But she's also one more reason why Andover schools are inviting interested people to join them on the Step by Step five-mile non-competitive walk this Sunday, Oct. 27. Regardless of the weather, the walk will begin at the Park at noon, with registration from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

"It's fun. The walk is fun. There's entertainment, there's food, there's pizza at the end," plugs Ms. Bachner.

Some day, she hopes, there will also be a cure. But until then, Ms. Bachner will stick to her doctor's treatment and her own ideas about what will help her survive cancer.

"I think you have to focus in on today. You don't want to go through a living death," she says, simply.

Perhaps this is why Ms. Bachner keeps her kindergarten classroom filled with life. Ms. Bachner has several young birds, a turtle and a hamster named Nibbles in cages for the children to learn about. There is also a bird feeder directly outside her window with some pictures of common birds inside the room to help the kindergartners identify the different birds when they come for seed.

"You appreciate every day much more. Every day is even more special because it's one more day you have to touch someone else's life or to be touched," Ms. Bachner says of dealing with the children. "I'm not saying that's going to cure my cancer but it makes me happier day by day."

Step by Step

While Ms. Bachner believes in staying active, she says she's seen people in her support groups who become overcome with fear that they are going to die.

"There's no denial, but you don't have to dwell on the fear of it," she says of her approach. "I can't get caught in that. When I find myself caught up in the fear I have to work my way out of it."

In fact, work is exactly what Ms. Bachner has done. She was back in her classroom on a limited basis just two months after she was diagnosed.

"For me, it's wonderful to be able to work. It's a top priority. Not that I don't get tired," she says. "Nothing bothers me when I'm at school because you don't have time for it. So there's no time to dwell on it."

Ms. Bachner says she's too busy attending to the students and then, later, planning the next day's lesson plan to worry much about what's to come healthwise.

"Working, for me, is something that's been extremely positive - and the doctors feel that way too," she says. "I did have one doctor tell me that those are the people who do better. They might not live longer, but they do better (by staying active with something they enjoy).

"I think there's a great deal of connection between body and soul."

Sunday, both Ms. Bachner's body and soul will be involved with the Step by Step walk-a-thon. Ms. Bachner says the first year 900 people raised around $18,000 for cancer research and the second year a smaller crowd raised about $15,000. If the weather improves, Ms. Bachner said she's hoping for 1,000 people this year.

"There's a lot that they (researchers) know now that they didn't know five years ago and there's a lot they'll know five years from now that they don't know now," she says.

If you'd like to go Step by Step...

Step by Step is a 5-mile non-competitive walk sponsored by the Andover Public Schools and Pike School in conjunction with the American Cancer Society. Step by Step is an occasion for the community to come together to raise money for the Cancer Society.

The walk gives people an opportunity to honor those who are living with or those who have died of cancer.

The walk will take place, rain or shine, Sunday, Oct. 27, at noon. It will begin at the Park next to Doherty Middle School with registration from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. The course will continue onto Main Street to Shawsheen School, West Middle School and ends back at the Park.

There will be entertainment at the Park and refreshments served at three stops along the walk, as well as at the Park.

Donations are due at the time of the registration. T-shirts will be presented to those donating $20 or more. Brochures are available at all schools and community buildings.

Several groups have contributed toward the cost of the T-shirts: Pentucket Medical Associates, which is now associated with Lahey-Hitchcock Clinic, T.R. White Co., Inc./General Contractors owned by Andover resident Tim White, and Daher's Shoes, owned by Joyce Belko and John Daher. Many local merchants have donated food items.

DPW director, Bob McQuade, admits error on water line costs Selectmen want answers from developer

By Don Staruk

Public Works Director Bob McQuade this week admitted he erred in telling residents at a public meeting in May they would not be charged for connections to be brought to their property line for water service being installed in Salem Street and Jenkins Road. But selectmen asked for a meeting with the developer who is installing the line, Deering Development Corp., its attorney, Mark Johnson of Andover, and the contractor, John E. Farmer and Sons Inc. of Billerica, to find out why they did not make it clear they would not pay for the work.

Despite repeated efforts by the Townsmen this week and last to contact Mr. Johnson and the contractor, neither returned phone calls.

The issue came up last week after a resident complained to the Townsmen that several residents received letters from Farmer advising them they could have the connections from the water line to their property line installed at their cost while the contractor was in the area. Although individual estimates vary, the charges range from about $800 for those on the side of the street closest to the water main, to $2,400 for those on the other side of the street.

At the public meeting at Memorial Auditorium May 20, selectmen in their role as water commissioners voted to allow the developer to install more than a mile of water line in the two roads. The developer offered to pay the roughly $1 million to install the line in order to have water service to a proposed 23-lot subdivision at 140-150 Jenkins Road.

During the meeting, Mr. McQuade said he would require the developer to rebuild the road after the excavation, and pay for half the cost of repaving it. He also said he would require the developer to provide the stubs, the connections from the water main to the property lines at the edge of the road, for existing houses. This was so that if residents decided to connect to the main later on, the road would not have to be dug up again.

Mark Johnson, who had just made a presentation to the gathering detailing the plans of the installation, nor anyone else representing the developer at the meeting, spoke up or objected to their having to pay for that work.

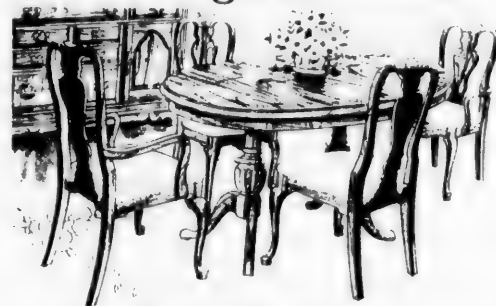

"It will be installed by the developer at his sole expense," Mr. Johnson said of the water

United Way hopes to raise $5.6M; 3 local professionals help in effort

William L. Lane, president of Holy Family Hospital and area chairman for United Way of Merrimack Valley's Greater Lawrence area, announced recently that his team hopes to raise $1,372,347 this year. Mr. Lane and team members Wayne Golon, Dr. Jeffrey Goldstein, Alan Kraunelis, Kathy Rodger and Richard Santagati will focus fund-raising efforts in Andover, North Andover, Methuen and Lawrence.

The organization hopes to raise $5.6 million, according to general campaign chairwoman Niki Tsongas. The goal is based on projections from area chairpersons across the Merrimack Valley, who estimate how much they can raise. Most funds come from employee payroll deduction plans with other moneys raised through corporate and individual gifts.

The effort is undertaken by hundreds of volunteers, said Ms. Tsongas, including a dozen professionals on loan from area companies and retirees who work full-time for 12 weeks to help champion the drive.

Local professionals help

Jack Flynn, Al Kountze and Michael Frishman, all of Andover, are lending their expertise to this year's campaign. Campaigning full-time until Thanksgiving, individuals will coordinate employee payroll deduction plans with local companies providing materials and videos, coordinating visits by agency representatives and providing presentations themselves.

Jack Flynn, retired from Gillette, serves on the boards of the ARC of Northern Essex, Habitat for Humanity and the I Have A Dream project. He holds a BS from Yale and an MBA from Northeastern and lives with his wife, Alice.

Al Kountze, retired from NYNEX, is involved with the Merrimack Valley Community Foundation, Massachusetts Association of Partners in Education, Boston Partners in Education and the National Association of Partners in Education. He holds an M.Ed. from Boston University and lives with his wife, Shirley.

Michael Frishman, formerly an editor of The New York Times, is active on boards of several local agencies, Friends of Andover Memorial Hall Library, and Andover ABC.

United Way, which provides funds to 57 health and human service agencies across the Merrimack Valley, recently pledged to raise $5.6 million this year. Most of the funds come through the employee payroll deduction plans, with other money raised from corporate gifts and individual donations.

The kick-off also launched United Way's annual Day of Caring, an effort sending more than 300 employees from two dozen companies across the Merrimack Valley to work as volunteers at health and human service agencies. The IRS and Hewlett Packard in Andover sent more than 40 employees to help at Family Service, Girl Scouts, Girl's Inc. and St. Ann's.

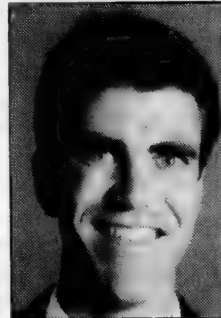

The kick-off was also United Way's 25th birthday. The United Funds of Lawrence, Greater Lowell and Greater Haverhill merged in 1971 to form a single organization to help people in the Merrimack Valley.

The annual effort provides funds to 57 health and human service agencies servicing people in 34 Merrimack Valley communities.

David A. Croteau

Earl R. Flansburgh + Associates, Inc., a 65-person Boston-based architectural and interior design firm, announced that the promotion of David A. Croteau, AIA, to senior associate and director of design. Mr. Croteau will manage the design process and serve as lead designer on major firm commissions. He will also be responsible for the recruitment and training of design staff.

Mr. Croteau has been working on the Andover High School building project.

David A. Croteau

He joined the firm in 1987 as a project architect responsible for the planning and design of public schools, college and university buildings, office/commercial buildings and museums. His 10 years professional experience has involved the design of several award-winning projects including the Warren Community Elementary School in Warren, and the new $22 million South Lawrence East School in Lawrence.

Mr. Croteau received a bachelor's degree in architecture from Rensselaer

Polytechnic Institute in 1986 and received the American Institute of Architects, Student Chapter Silver Medal. A member of the American Institute of Architects and the Boston Society of Architects, Mr. Croteau has been a guest critic at the Boston Architectural Center and adjunct assistant professor at the School of Architecture at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Vineyard makes donations to both towns' 350th anniversary efforts

S. Joseph Hoffman, president of The Vineyard, presented a check for $350 to each of the Andovers in honor of the 350th anniversary of the towns. The donation is being made to mark The Vineyard's recent grand opening celebration.

The presentation to North Andover was made Monday, Oct. 7, at the Board of Selectmen's meeting in Stevens Library. Andover received its check Monday, Oct. 21, at 7:30 p.m. in the selectmen's conference room at town offices on Bartlet Street.

The Vineyard, a new wine and gourmet food store in North Andover, is located on Route 114 at the junction of Route 125.

main during his initial presentation, according to selectmen's minutes from the meeting.

It wasn't until the next day or later that Mr. McQuade learned previous court actions had ruled against the town in such cases, determining that the town could not require the developer to pay for installation of the stubs.

"The mistake was mine. I thought we could lean on the developer," Mr. McQuade said. "I misled the people, but I didn't do it intentionally, and I was wrong."

That was not good enough for Pat D'Ambra, of 109 Jenkins Road.

"Somebody's feet need to be held to the fire and it's not ours," Ms. D'Ambra said.

Ms. D'Ambra and Mamie Leonard of 328 Salem St. said the developer and his representatives were at the meeting and by their silence agreed to what was said. Ms. D'Ambra said the town should either make the developer stick to that inferred agreement or selectmen should revoke their decision to approve the project because it was made with erroneous information.

While Selectman Jerry Silverman, acting chairman in place of an absent James Barenboim, defended the board, the process used and Mr. McQuade, selectmen Barry Finegold and Larry Larsen expressed dismay at the situation and the silence on the part of the developer's representatives at the May meeting.

"I think the developer should pay for the hookups," Mr. Finegold said. "I think there was a bill of goods sold and I think the developer and the attorney should have stood up and" corrected the mistake.

Both called for a meeting with the developer and contractor, town officials and the town's attorney so they could get some answers and try to find a more equitable solution for residents.

Mr. Larsen said the town should take some responsibility for having played at least a part in having gotten the residents into this. He ceded to Ms. D'Ambra and Ms. Leonard and other residents at the meeting Monday that mistakes were made and that they may have some legal recourse against the developer or possibly even the town.

Mr. Finegold also was not happy that the contractor was allowed to put up a surety bond that amounted to just 10 percent of the cost of the project. He questioned what would happen should the contractor up and leave in the middle of the project. Mr. McQuade said the $100,000 bond would be enough to cover the contractor's cost of repaving the road, but not to complete the water line.

"So we just have a half-built road," Mr. Finegold said.

Buzz Stapczynski, town manger, said Wednesday morning the meeting with the developer had not yet been scheduled. Selectmen said they would come back to a public meeting with the results of that meeting at a later date.

Keep tabs on storm damages

By Don Staruk

Buzz Stapczynski, town manager, said Wednesday residents should keep track of costs for all storm related damages because FEMA, the Federal Emergency Management Administration, may provide low-interest loans for repairs not covered by insurance.

Mr. Stapczynski said damage as a result of wind and wind-driven debris may be covered by homeowner's insurance, and that people should contact their insurance adjuster first to learn if specific damage is covered.

He said FEMA will likely be setting up an office in the Merrimack Valley within the next few weeks and will probably be taking applications for the low interest loans.

FEMA will likely place ads in the local paper advertising the low-interest low program, he said.

Hot state-rep campaign is boiling over because of a request from his daughter-in-law, he said.

According to Mr. Fox, while he was at Sanborn School he saw a truck pull up to the intersection of Fairway Drive and Lovejoy Road across from the school. The truck was driven by Jim Cuticchia, a Barry Finegold supporter, and had a Finegold political sign on it.

Mr. Fox said he felt uncomfortable about approaching Mr. Cuticchia because of the campaign, but he asked Mr. Cuticchia to move the truck because it was sticking at least three feet out onto Lovejoy Road. Mr. Cuticchia told police he did not think the truck needed to be moved, but he did as directed.

Then, according to a police report, Mr. Cuticchia called the police to see if the auxiliary officer was assigned to a detail at the school. Mr. Fox had cleared the detail with Lt. Phil Froborg weeks if not months before, according to Mr. Fox and confirmed by the police, but there wasn't a record of the assignment in the police workbook.

As a result, Sgt. William MacKenzie went to Sanborn to talk with Mr. Fox. While there, Sgt. MacKenzie overheard Mr. Fox ask a couple for their vote.

Mr. Fox said he recognized the couple from around town and talked briefly to their daughter about her pumpkin costume.

"And my parting thing was, 'Don't forget to vote for me Nov. 5,'" said Mr. Fox.

But Mr. Fox said that was the only time he mentioned the election and the police have since cleared him of soliciting votes in uniform.

"I challenge anybody to come up with anybody who I have solicited anything or passed out literature," said Mr. Fox, who said he was embarrassed by the incident.

"Here I am trying to do a good deed and a police car pulls up and (an officer) asks me to get in the car," he said. "I don't want to do anything to embarrass a department I've been (associated) with 25 years."

Barry Finegold Tuesday dismissed the incident as a thing of the past, saying, "I just don't think it's a political issue."

Debate shots

At the Oct. 17 debate between the two candidates, one could already see tensions were rising between the two political camps.

Both candidates used their opportunity to ask the other a question to criticize their opponent. Both candidates also spent so long doing so that moderator Betsey Cullen had to ask them to get to their question.

"You've done nothing but personally attack me," said Mr. Finegold. The Democrat went on to accuse Mr. Fox of insulting working women by calling them "girls" at a Chamber of Commerce function, insulting senior citizens by telling them to "get off your duffs," and ignoring Lawrence by not bothering to have a single city-dweller sign his nomination papers.

In the set-up to his question, Mr. Fox criticized his opponent for breaking promises to voters that he made while running for his selectman position, such as a promise to reduce the town payroll.

Loaded, anonymous questions

The candidates also handled anonymous, loaded questions that appeared to come from their opponents' supporters in attendance.

Mr. Fox was asked how he would use his influence to help his friends.

"Thank you Mrs. Finegold," he joked.

"I didn't write that question. I resent that," said Sondra Finegold, Barry's mother, who was in the audience.

Mr. Fox answered the question with, "I've always hired people on merit."

FINANCIAL STRATEGIES

by Ronald R. Hill, CLU, ChFC

THE EARLIER, THE BETTER?

With benefits available as early as age 62, many retirees might be wondering if they should hold off on signing up for their Social Security checks until age 65 if they expect to live into their nineties. The short answer is "no." Even though retirees receive their Social Security benefits at a cut rate before age 65, those who expect to live another thirty years still make out better by beginning to collect benefits at age 62. For example, take the case of the retiree who is entitled to $500 monthly at age 65, but only $400 at age 62. If he or she began collecting $400 at age 62, he or she would have collected $14,400 by age 65. On the other hand, if he or she had waited until age 65 to collect $500 a month, it would have taken 144 months before the added $100 per month would have equaled $14,400. By investing those $400 checks from age 62 to 65, it is doubtful that an investor could ever be worse off than if he or she had waited to collect. The decision of when to begin Social Security benefits, like all else financial, depends upon many things. Please let us help you analyze your situation and reach conclusions which will work best for you and your family given your circumstances.

No matter what your age or stage of life, you need to take steps to ensure a secure financial future. Income from Social Security and your employer's retirement plan usually isn't enough. Let the experts at BAYSTATE FINANCIAL SERVICES, 10 Essex Street, Andover, help you understand the many options available to you. To secure your future financial needs, call us at 475-9212, or call our Boston office, 100 N. Washington Street at (617) 523-4500. Schedule a free initial consultation today.

HINT: The Social Security Administration trims benefits by $1 for every $2 made by retirees who are under age 65 and make over $8,280 yearly, thereby complicating the early benefit picture for those who make more than that.

ON CAMPUS

Mark Lastrina, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Lastrina of Andover, was selected as an orientation leader for first-year students at Gettysburg College in Gettysburg, Pa.

The 1993 graduate of Andover High School led a group of first-year students through their first week at the college, as they attended activities and information sessions with faculty and academic departments. He introduced them to the many aspects of college life: getting acquainted with the campus, moving into the residence halls, registering for classes, and attending campus-wide social activities. The leaders attended various workshops prior to the arrival of the first-year students to become familiar with the orientation process and schedule.

Mark O'Brien, son of Kathleen and James O'Brien of Russell Lane, and Kathryn O'Donnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miles C. O'Donnell of Sagamore Drive, began their studies as first-year students at Hamilton College in Clinton, N.Y.

Mr. O'Brien, a Phillips Academy graduate, and Ms. O'Donnell, an Andover High School graduate, were selected from the more than 4,045 applicants to the college. Mr. O'Brien and Ms. O'Donnell join a class of 497, the largest first-year class in more than 10 years.

Zachary J. Smith, son of Susan Callahan of Andover, enrolled at the Williston Northampton School in Easthampton this fall. Mr. Smith is a senior.

Donna Moreira of North Main Street qualified for the continuing education dean's list at Emerson College in Boston. Ms. Moreira, a sales representative for the Andover Townsman, completed a minimum of 16 semester hours during the 1995-'96 calendar year and maintained a 3.45 grade-point average or better.

around trees where pipes were to be laid as part of the construction of an amphitheater and walkway adjacent to the Camden Avenue School, near the college campus.

Mr. Scaia was among 107 Providence College students who reported to campus one week prior to the start of classes to participate in the sixth annual Urban Action program, a year-round community service program, sponsored through the auspices of the college's Student Services Department.

James Vieira was named to the dean's list at Idaho State University College of Pharmacy in Pocatello, Idaho.

Sarah Weir, a sophomore at Connecticut College in New London, Conn., participated in the college's 82nd convocation, which honored Miep Gies, the woman who risked her life sheltering Anne Frank and her family from the Nazis during the World War II. Ms. Weir read a selection from Anne Frank: Diary of a Young Girl to the 1,300 students, faculty, staff and community members assembled for the convocation.

The 1995 graduate of Andover High School is the daughter of William and Haekyung Weir of Wildwood Road.

Following the Nazi invasion of Holland in 1940, Miep Gies and her husband, Jan, both Christians, sheltered the Frank family and other Jews in their house, providing for them and acting as a link to the outside world. After the Franks were captured by the Nazis, Ms. Gies discovered Anne's diary and returned it to her father, after learning of her death in a concentration camp.

Ms. Gies recounted her experiences in her book Anne Frank Remembered and was presented with an honorary doctorate of humane letters by Connecticut College.

Boston University awarded academic degrees to 5,305 students this fall.

Receiving degrees were Andover residents Jeffrey B. Arnold, MBA in business administration and management, high honors; Mary Bertolini, EDM in special education; Angela Bhan, BSBA in business administration and management; Michael C. Chiklis, BFAT in acting; Robert A. Ciampa, MBA in business administration and management, high honors; Laura A. Currier, MBA in business administration and management; Robert A. Diadamo, JD in law, magna cum laude; Rachel C. Dix, EDM in policy, planning and administration; Jane Doherty, MSW in social work; Edward P. Hunt, MBA in business administration and management, high honors.

Also, Deborah Loomis-Lafond, MDIV in theological studies; Regina V. Malvar, MA, PhD in political economy; Michael W. Morris Jr., JD in law; Sydney S. Tucker, LLM

Andover Rotary scholarships total $4,000 - Four local high school students have each been awarded $1,000 college scholarships. From left, Lauren McCubbin from North Andover High is attending the University of Massachusetts Amherst; Andover High graduate Michael Scarpulla is attending Dartmouth College; Andover High graduate Valerie Parker attends Emerson College; and North Andover High School graduate Christopher Hayes attends Carnegie Mellon. Paul Mercandetti, scholarship chairman, said, "These four outstanding students not only excelled academically but gave back to Andover and North Andover their after-school and weekend time in volunteer work with the elderly and teenagers. They demonstrated Rotary's criteria of 'service above self.'" William J. Iannazzi, past president, presented the awards on behalf of the Rotary Club of Andover.

SCHOOL TALK

Dr. Tom Cottle, clinical psychologist, author, lecturer and television personality, will speak on "Whatever Happened to Standards, Values and Courtesy?" tonight, Oct. 24, in Doherty Middle School Auditorium from 7:30 to 9.

His talk kicks off this year's Townwide Speaker Series sponsored by Andover's Parent to Parent organization, in collaboration with the Townwide PTO, Pike School and Pentucket Medical Associates Inc. His presentation is free and open to the public.

A brief PAC meeting will follow Dr. Cottle's speech. All parents are welcome. For more information, call Carol Dugan at 470-3542.

Students from Phillips Academy received new members to the SIS organization Wednesday, Oct. 9, in Doherty's cafeteria. SIS is a big-sister program that pairs Doherty girls with Phillips Academy big sisters.

SIS focuses on building self-esteem in adolescent girls. Weekly meetings on the PA campus involve skits, role-playing, writing activities and discussions about issues facing girls today.

For more information about the program, contact Ann Bor, counselor at Doherty Middle School.

Prospective and new college students can find out how and when to apply for state, federal, and college-supported financial aid programs in the free 1996-'97 Handbook on Admissions and Financial Aid at Independent Colleges in Massachusetts, published by the Association of Independent Colleges and Universities in Massachusetts.

Prospective students are urged to apply for financial aid as soon as possible after Jan. 1 of the year they plan to attend college.

The 40-page Handbook tells how to find out if a student is eligible to receive financial aid, where to get the application forms, when to apply and where to get more information.

Current enrollments, tuitions, application requirements, and application deadlines for 55 independent colleges and universities in Massachusetts are also included.

The Handbook is available free of charge by calling the Handbook voice mail telephone line: (617) 531-1154.

In this election year, fourth-and fifth-grade students at West Elementary School now have a deeper understanding of the roles and responsibilities of the President of the United States. On Monday, Oct. 7, they learned how a president might spend a typical day at the White House.

Sam Rubin, of the education department of the John F. Kennedy Library in Boston, shared his knowledge of how President Kennedy spent Tuesday, Sept. 25, 1962.

Using President Kennedy's actual calendar for that day, Mr. Rubin led the students in a discussion about the events that took place from early morning until late at night. The discussion came to life as Mr. Rubin showed slides of the President engaged in activities such as reading his mail, meeting with dignitaries, enjoying a Mexican ballet company, attending a National Theater gala, and holding top secret meetings to discuss the Soviet Union's activities in Cuba.

The students were amazed to learn that the President of the United States receives approximately 15,000 to 20,000 pieces of mail a day. During a question-and-answer period, students were curious about how much President Bill Clinton is paid, if he has to pay his own electric bills, and if he has to work on Saturday and Sunday. When Mr. Rubin asked if any of them aspired to be president someday, some students immediately shot their hands in the air. The students left the auditorium with an increased awareness of the grueling schedule a president must face every day. Perhaps someday, one of these Andover students just might sit in the Oval Office as president.

Mr. Rubin's visit to West Elementary was arranged by Janet Bloom, a West Elementary parent, as part of the school's cultural enrichment program.

Thirty-six first-graders from Pike School spent Tuesday, Oct. 15, at Old Sturbridge Village. The children are learning about 19th-century American history through an interdisciplinary unit on quilting. The first-graders saw interpreters re-enacting daily life in a rural New England village, and participated in hands-on activities. Youngsters will visit the New England Quilt Museum in Lowell Friday, Oct. 25.

John M. Waters, head of school at Pike School, has been named to the board of directors at Lazarus House Ministries in Lawrence.

Mr. Waters will serve in an advisory capacity during his three-year term.

Lazarus House is a ministry to the poor in the Merrimack Valley.

All 37 fifth-graders from Pike School are spending this week at Sargent Camp Environmental Center in Peterborough, N.H. For five days the youngsters and their teachers will spend their time in activities that complement what the children have been learning in their classes.

Celebrating Over 30 Years of Excellence

At Greater Lawrence Technical School students are provided with technical training in a field of their choice. The future always looks bright for our graduates because they enter the work force with the hands-on training required by employers. Many students participate in Co-Op programs where they earn money working in an entry level job while learning academic material and classwork on the other week.

We are proud to say that over the past thirty years, the majority of our graduates have gone into their field of choice right after graduation. Others have continued their training in college.

To the Voters:

During the last several months my opponent has aggressively attacked me, not on issues, but on my character.

He has questioned my commitment to senior citizens, my respect for women, my interest in Lawrence, my integrity and recently, my impartiality when serving as a volunteer police auxiliary officer.

I have always believed that truth is the best shield against slander. Although it has had a toll on my wife and family, a dirty campaign is an anathema to me. I will not participate at the same level as my opponent.

Even though character assassination is now a part of the national election process, I will never use it in this election.

Issues and my opponent's lack of experience are important but I will never question his integrity.

Please consider me when you vote on November 5th.

Respectfully,
James Fox

in graduate taxation.

The Collins family members at 94 Ballardvale Road have two graduates to be proud of this year.

Maura Collins graduated from Westfield State College with a bachelor of science degree in business management and a minor in marketing and communications.

Erin Collins, a 1996 graduate of Andover High School, is a first-year student at Providence College. She was awarded a four-year dean scholarship for her high academic achievement at Andover.

Maura and Erin are the daughters of Ken and Anne Collins.

Elizabeth Cutler, daughter of Edwin and Priscilla Cutler of 10 Deerberry Lane, is one of 19 students serving as resident coordinators at Bates College in Lewiston, Maine.

The senior will serve as a counselor and resource person for other students living in her residence.

The 1993 graduate of Phillips Academy is a dean's list student and has participated in a study-abroad program in Spain.

Tricia Duarte, daughter of Richard and Linda Duarte of School Street, is spending the fall semester studying at Lorenzo d'Medici Institute in Florence, Italy.

The Andover High School graduate is an art history major at Fairfield University.

Evan S. Koch of Andover, a sophomore at Dartmouth College in Hanover, N.H., has been cited for outstanding academic achievement during the 1996 spring term. He has also been named a Rufus Choate Scholar.

The son of John and Janice Koch was cited for outstanding work in a course in mathematics.

Members of the Dartmouth faculty are invited to submit citation reports only when a student's work is sufficiently distinguished to merit special recognition. Typically, only a few undergraduates receive citations each term, a spokesman for the school said.

Rufus Choate Scholars are students whose grade-point-average at the end of the academic year places them in the top 5 percent of their class.

Amanda Grasso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grasso of Andover, is a member of MOVE (Mobilization Of Volunteer Efforts), the Saint Michael's College community service organization. Ms. Grasso is a junior psychology major at St. Michael's, located in Colchester, Vt.

She is coordinator of the little brother/little sister program, which matches a Saint Michael's student with a child from a nearby community. Students spend at least three hours a week with their little brother or sister doing a variety of activities and serving as a positive role model.

Under the direction of the office of campus ministry, MOVE provides services to citizens, especially the poor and disenfranchised, in the communities surrounding Saint Michael's. The organization provides the opportunity for students to experience community service first-hand and offers more than a dozen programs.

Jaime Greene, a graduate of Andover High School, has enrolled as a first-year student at the University of Rochester. Mr. Greene is a recipient of a Rush Rhees Scholarship.

The Rush Rhees Scholarship, named for the university's third president, is given to high-ability students who score 1350 or higher on the SAT or a composite of 30 or better on the ACT tests. The award ranges from $5,000 to $10,000, depending upon the student's other grants.

Karen M. Kirley, a first-year student at Connecticut College in New London, Conn., participated in the college's ninth annual preorientation, Conn's Outdoor Orientation Program (COOP). The program, which ran four days prior to the full orientation, involved more than one third of the class of 2,000.

The 1996 graduate of Phillips Academy is the daughter of James and Sandra Kirley of Linwood Street.

COOP is designed to provide incoming students with an opportunity to learn about themselves and their classmates through challenging outdoor activities. Major activities include still and whitewater canoeing, technical rock-climbing, high and low rope-course elements, backpacking and caving.

Local residents helped march the Massachusetts Wing Civil Air Patrols Drill Team to success during the Regional Cadet Competition held Columbus Day weekend at Newport Navy Base, R.I. The team, which consists of 16 cadets and four advisers, practiced at Lawrence Municipal Airport for eight months in preparation for the competition.

Team members from Andover include cadets Matt Cox (16), Daniel Taylor (18), and Jillian Redding (14). Team members from North Andover include major Don Desfosse, senior team adviser, second lieutenant Antoinette Fischer, team adviser, and cadets Allen Mackey (17), Stephen Mackey (17), and Albert Fischer (16).

Competition consists of several events: uniform inspection, standard drill and ceremonies routine, innovative drill and ceremonies routine, panel bowl contest, mile run, volleyball competition, and written exam. Cadets who go to regional competition are considered the "cream of the crop" of their Wing. The Massachusetts Wing Team will represent Northeast Region at the National Cadet Competition Dec. 26-31 at Maxwell AFB, Ala.

Art Quest introduces West Elementary fifth-graders to the language of art

By Arleen Jaracz
West Elementary PTO

Last week, fifth grade students at West Elementary School were introduced to art as a language without words and sentences through a program known as Art Quest. Art historian Carin Dobin demonstrated how the students could actually learn about what happened in the past by looking and thinking about what they are seeing when they view artwork. Through slides and discussion, Ms. Dobin shared artwork from the Colonial America period. She chose this art period to integrate it the history of America which fifth-graders are studying this year.

The students were enthusiastic and eagerly participated in discussions about portraits, landscapes, and action pictures. Ms. Dobin began by having the students imagine they lived in the 1700s. They were first introduced to American folk art, painted by self-taught artists as there were no art schools in America at the time. The fifth-graders found they were quickly able to distinguish American folk art by its serious subjects and its flat, stiff, and out-of-proportion characteristics. They learned that through folk art, they could understand how the early colonists looked, dressed, and lived when they first came to America. Next, Ms. Dobin had the students compare family portraits from the 1700s and 1800s which helped them see how the artists' techniques improved with the use of shadowing, perspective, three-dimensional rendering, texture and light reflections.

When viewing a painting by Paul Revere, the children were astonished to learn that he was a painter as well as a silversmith. They learned how Revere and other painters used their paintings to influence people. The students were surprised to see slides of some of the pictures they had seen in their history books and made associations with what they had been learning in class.

Ms. Dobin then led a discussion about the painting styles of self-taught artists John Singleton Copley, Peter Pelham, and John Trumble, all of whom received some art training in England. The students could see how their paintings came to life with added emotion, action, drama, and expressions on the subject's faces.

Ms. Dobin visited with each fifth-grade class and encouraged them to be observant when looking at art. In each session, all the students participated in lively discussions about the styles and meaning of the artwork.

The fifth-graders, who will visit Boston's Museum of Fine Arts later this school year, were encouraged by Ms. Dobin to seek out and identify the folk art at the museum.

Art Quest is one of many enrichment programs arranged by the school's cultural events program, which is funded by the West Elementary PTO.

Expressionist prints by Richard Bosman on display, the Robert Lehman Art Center, Brooks School, North Andover, through Oct. 29, Tuesday through Friday 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m., Saturdays 8:30 a.m.-noon, Sundays 2:30-5 p.m.; Michael King (508) 686-6101.

Kids' 'Trick or Treat Downtown' Saturday

The Andover Center Association will host "Trick or Treat Downtown" this Saturday, Oct. 26, from 10 a.m. to noon. Trick-or-treaters should look for the orange-and-black balloons outside each participating business.

The event will end with children's entertainment at upstairs in Memorial Hall Library from 11:30 a.m. to noon.

The Coconut Club will celebrate the harvest season with a puppet show called A Day at the Farm, which will feature puppets seen during Andover's 350th Parade and many new characters. The farm setting will include a barn puppet stage and an outdoor scene that animal puppets will bring to life.

Yellow Pockets the clown will make a special appearance.

The Coconut Club is an outreach ministry of Riverside Assembly of God in Methuen, directed by Mark Baldwin of Andover.

"It is our intent to provide the most innovative, exciting and educational Christian programs possible. As a result, our efforts focus on practicing the fundamentals, writing programs, performing programs as well as training other potential clowns and puppeteers in starting their own teams," according to organizers.

OBITUARIES

Shirley F. Martin Longtime employee of Christian Science Publishing

Shirley F. Martin of Andover died Thursday, Oct. 17, at Wingate at Andover.

Miss Martin was born in Dorchester and was a graduate of Chandler Business School of Boston.

She was a former resident of Newton.

Miss Martin was a former longtime employee of Christian Science Publishing Society and a member of First Church of Newtonville.

Members of her family include her sister, Marjorie M. Richardson of North Andover; brother, George M. Martin of Danvers; and six nephews.

Arrangements were by Dewhirst & Conte Funeral Home.

Memorial contributions may be made to Shriners Burn Institute, 51 Blossom St., Boston, Mass.

Lillian R. Harnedy Was department store retail buyer

Lillian R. (Naiman) Harnedy, 82, of Andover died Friday, Oct. 18, at Lawrence General Hospital.

Mrs. Harnedy was born in Lawrence and graduated from Lawrence High School in 1932.

Deaths Elsewhere

MCBIRNEY — William T. McBirney of Quincy died Saturday, Oct. 19.

Members of his family include his daughters and sons-in-law, Ellen M. and Francis McNeice and Ruth M. and John W. Crow, all of Andover.

PULVERENTI — Anthony J. Pulverenti, 80, of North Andover died Monday, Oct. 21, at his home.

Members of his family include his daughter, Jane Gaulin of Andover.

She was a retail buyer for the former Sutherlands Department Store in Lawrence until she retired.

She was a member of St. Augustine Church.

Members of her family include her son and daughter-in-law, William J. and Dawn Harnedy of Lawrence; daughter, Kathleen A. Harnedy of Andover; grandchildren, William J. Harnedy Jr., Hunna Harnedy, Sean A. Harnedy, Kacy E. Harnedy and Kady A. Harnedy; and several nieces and nephews.

She was the widow of William A. Harnedy.

A funeral Mass was said Tuesday at St. Augustine Church. Burial was in St. Augustine Cemetery.

Arrangements were by Burke Funeral Home.

Memorial contributions may be made to American Heart Association, 20 Speen St., Framingham, Mass. 01701-4688.

William A. Long Proprietors of Elander & Swanton, men's clothing store on Main Street

William A. Long, 78, died in Laconia, N.H., after an extended illness.

Mr. Long was born in Lawrence in October 1918. He was the son of James Long, formerly of England, and Mary Shearer Long, formerly of Glasgow, Scotland. He grew up in Lawrence and Methuen.

After he graduated from Essex Agricultural Institute in Danvers, Mr. Long opened a floral shop in Lawrence.

He joined the Army during World War II and was stationed in Europe. His duties included the infantry, veterinary medicine and culinary service. He was a head cook when he was discharged from Fort Devens in 1946.

Mr. Long and his late wife, Marjorie Crosby Long, were the proprietors of Elander & Swanton Inc., a men's clothing store on Main Street. They moved from Andover in 1977 to run Piping Rock Motel in Wolfeboro, N.H.

After they retired in 1985, they traveled between their homes in Alton, N.H., and Nokomis, Fla.

Of the many things we all remember, his family said, these things stand out. He had a beautiful singing voice and was very active in the South Church choir. Every place he lived he had to have large vegetable and flower gardens. He enjoyed making muffins from the zucchini he grew for his granddaughter, Meredith. According to his family, Mr. Long loved to fish, although he never caught anything — in fact, no one in the boat he was in would ever catch anything.

Members of his family include his daughters, Judith L. Cooper of Bonita, Calif., and Karen E. Long of Nottingham, N.H.; son-in-law, William R. Cooper, also of Bonita; grandchildren, Timothy Cooper and Meredith Cooper; and many family members across the country.

Memorial donations may be made to American Diabetes Association, P.O. Box 968, Framingham, Mass. 01701.

Clara R. Bredbury Longtime secretary at Phillips Academy

Clara R. Bredbury, 89, of Laconia, N.H., died Sunday, Oct. 20, at the Belknap County Nursing Home in Laconia.

For many years she was a secretary at Phillips Academy in Andover.

Born in Somerville, she had lived in Laconia for the past 20 years after moving there from Andover. She was a member of the Gilford Community Church.

Members of her family include her son, William Bredbury of Laconia; daughter, Jean Bradbury of Methuen; four grandchildren; five great-grandchildren; brother, Frank Richards of Andover; and several nieces and nephews.

There are no calling hours.

Graveside services will be held at the family lot in Spring Grove Cemetery, Andover, on Saturday, Oct. 26, at 11 a.m.

Memorial contributions may be made to the charity of one's choice.

Henry W. Wrigley Ballardvale native worked at Tyre Rubber for many years

Henry W. "Harry" Wrigley of Andover died on Tuesday, Oct. 22, at Lawrence General Hospital.

Mr. Wrigley was born in Ballardvale and was employed at Tyre Rubber Co. for many years. He was a member of St. Augustine Church and enjoyed fishing and hunting.

He was in the US Navy aboard the minesweeper USS Auk during World War II. He was involved in the invasion of Normandy and the war in Europe.

Consider These Thoughts

by Garry A. Burke

CHANGE

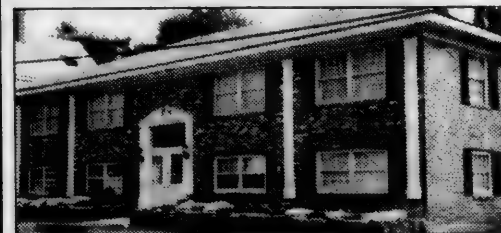

Our lives seem to be subject to changes that are so resounding as to make us stop and take notice. In fact, it sometimes appears that the changing circumstances of our lives can be so monumental in their impact that they force us to change with them. Those who are sensitive to the mutable nature of life will tell you that change is more a part of life than an infrequent visitor. As Henry Ward Beecher once remarked, "Our days are a kaleidoscope. Every instant a change takes place in the contents. New harmonies, new contrasts, new combinations of every sort. Nothing ever happens twice alike. The most familiar people stand each moment in some new relation to each other, to their work, to surrounding objects. The most tranquil house, with the most serene inhabitants, living upon the utmost regularity of system, is yet exemplifying infinite diversities."

Here at BURKE FUNERAL HOME, we encourage pre-arrangement because, generally, when the time comes for people to make this major purchase, they are often emotionally unable to do it wisely and prudently. We want to help you avoid the possibility of having to make such decisions under stress. For more information, call us at 475-5200. Located at 390 North Main Street, we are happy to design funeral services that meet your religious or personal preferences.

OBITUARIES

Henry W. Wrigley

Members of his family include his wife of 55 years, Victolia (Walent) Wrigley of Andover; son, Henry P. Wrigley of Andover; daughter, Joan Wrigley of Andover; daughter, Joan Ann Hickey of North Conway, N.H.; son-in-law, Robert Hickey of North Conway; four grandsons; sister, Agnes Klos of Sharon; and several nieces and nephews.

A funeral Mass will be said at 10 a.m. today, Thursday, Oct. 24, in St. Augustine Church. Cremation will take place at Linwood Crematory.

At the request of the family there are no calling hours.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Heart Association, 20 Speen St., Framingham, Mass. 01701, or to the American Diabetes Association, Box 968, Framingham, Mass. 01701.

Claus Dengler service postponed

A memorial gathering for Claus Dengler scheduled for Sunday was postponed because of the weather.

The service was to have been held by the Andover Village Improvement Society (AVIS) members and friends at West Parish Meadow Reservation.

Mr. Dengler's wife, Eartha Dengler, said the event would be rescheduled.

Free Christian Science talk

The public is invited to a free lecture on "The Healing Power of the Ten Commandments."

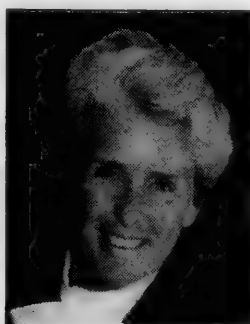

Jill Gooding of Hampshire, England, will speak tonight, Thursday, Oct. 24, at 8 p.m. at Old Town Hall, 20 Main St. The Christian Science practitioner and teacher is a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

"There is a deep cry from mankind today for a return to basic morality and ethics. Christian Science has come to reinstate primitive Christianity and its lost element of healing," organizers said. "This lecture addresses the need for, and implications of the Ten Commandments in today's world; but it does this, not from a dictatorial standpoint, but rather shows how these 10 simple rules of life, when understood spiritually, are the basis for prayer and demonstrated Christianity," they said.

The lecture is sponsored by First Church of Christ, Scientist, Andover.

Happy Celtic New Year

The ritual community of the Unitarian Universalist Congregation is hosting a public Samhain (Celtic new year/halloween) ritual, tomorrow, Friday, at 8 p.m., at 6 Locke St. in downtown Andover.

Jill Gooding

The Rev. Perer Richardson, of the Unitarian Universalist Congregation, said this Sunday, Oct. 27, "We gather our intergenerational community to mark Samhain (the Celtic New Year), a time of reflection and remembrance, when we honor our ancestors. Connecting with the seasons of our lives, we will celebrate themes from ancient pagan wisdom. Both the Junior and Senior Choirs will sing."

Also this Sunday, the World Religion

Series begins. Based on the PBS series of Bill Moyers' interviews with Huston Smith, this Sunday the first of five discussions, held Sundays, 7:30 to 9 p.m. at 6 Locke St. in downtown Andover, will be based on the video Buddhism and Hinduism. Subsequent Sunday evenings will cover Confucianism, Taoism, Judaism, Christianity and Islam.

Leaders are Susan Foster and Scott Carey.

350th Parade Your Photos

The Townsmen asked readers to share their photos of the 350th Anniversary Parade. The best are on page 1 and this page.

Deb Olander, 38, of Andover, took this photo of her children, Ryan Ferguson, 7, and Taryn Ferguson, who is 4. Their dad is Joe Ferguson. Ms. Olander, who does some high-school tutoring in math, said she used a "basic point and shoot 35 mm camera that's idiot proof." She said the photo was taken in front of Wood Park, where the family gathered early for the parade in order to get a good seat. She brought along face paints to keep Ryan and Taryn occupied.

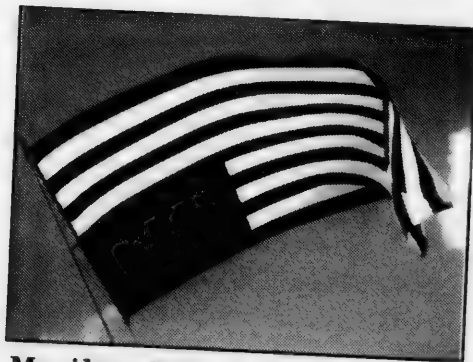

Louise M. Ponti of 16 Alden Road took this photo of the Middlesex County Fife and Drum Corps during the 350th Anniversary Parade Sept. 15. Ms. Ponti, who retired recently after selling real estate in this area for 19 years, said she is not a professional photographer, "I just like to take pictures." She works with an automatic Olympus with a zoom lens. She was very active with the 350th Committee, helping with the kickoff in January, and coming up with the idea of planting 1,500 American flags around Andover and North Andover while she was working for Coldwell Banker/Hunneman.

History buff Barbara Innes of 57 Juniper Road took this photo of the raising of the Mt. Rushmore flag in Elm Square at the beginning of the 350th Parade. She used a wide-angle 20-35 lens on her Minolta 7000. "I'm proud to be an American," said Ms. Innes, the mother of three grown children who calls herself a "homebody." She likes to take pictures of "anything to do with veterans."

Deanna L. Devine of South Main Street took this photo of two of her three sons and her nephew with the Mt. Rushmore flag behind them. From left, they are Josh Devine, 6, Michael Devine, 8, and Shane Deloury, 6. She used a Kodak 35 mm "very basic compact camera." Ms. Devine does bookkeeping for her husband's company.

Marilyn Faigel of 57 Argilla Road took this photo of the Mt. Rushmore flag at Andover's 350th Anniversary Parade Sept. 15 in Elm Square. She used her husband's camera. She said she was standing underneath the flag and thought, "This is a fantastic picture." She tilted the camera a little because she didn't want a completely square image. The wind blew the flag so that in the photo it looks upside down. Ms. Faigel is a dental hygienist for her husband, Dr. Harold Faigel.

James Santosuosso of Gemini Circle took this photo of his grandchildren, Charlene and David Fielding, who also live in Andover. He used an Olympus 35 mm with a macro lens. The kids are on the West Elementary School float. The photographer's wife, Jo Santosuosso, said her husband takes photos as a hobby. She said he's retired as a Teamster union official, but that he's busier than he's ever been.

the Shawsheen River spill over its banks onto North Main Street. The water was still rising at that point, and Mr. McQuade warned his fellow officials they could expect it to rise another foot and a half before it crested Tuesday night. Actually, it crested at about dawn Wednesday and had begun to recede slowly by mid-morning. Road detours remained in effect Wednesday morning. Mr. McQuade expected it to take "a couple of days anyway" before levels drop enough to open all roads and those evacuated from their homes could return.

Mr. McQuade said Wednesday there is not yet an estimate of damages, but expenses will include sand, overtime pay for DPW and other town employees and contracts for street repairs.

Mr. McQuade said a weather station in Reading recorded 8.3 inches of rain fell during a 24-hour period Sunday.

"That's a new record. We've never had that much rain in the history of keeping records," Mr. McQuade said. The records go back about 100 years, and the previous record was 6.8 inches in 24 hours, he said.

By 11:30 a.m. Monday, the rainfall from this storm was almost 10 inches, said Mr. McQuade. Workers spent most of Monday "chasing plugged catch basins" and opening blocked culverts, but despite their efforts, several streets were closed and some sections of roadway were washed away, including an area of Canterbury Street. Extensive flooding and related problems were reported on South Main Street, Elm Street and the Merrimack College area, Chestnut Street, Central Street, Essex Street.

"We've got problems all over," Mr. McQuade said.

Several residents complained of sewers backing up into their basements. The cause of the backups, according to Mr. McQuade, was residents who pumped cellar water into the sewer pipes in their basements, causing the sewer system to be inundated. By Monday, sewer department employees had opened the sewer pipes at the Shawsheen River off North Main Street to relieve the pressure, and were allowing the water/sewage mix to pour straight into the river. Opening the 24-inch line was an effort to keep the water from backing up into cellars all over town. Although allowing the sewage to spill into the river was not a preferred option, it was not a matter of choosing whether it occurred, but merely a matter of choosing where the overflow would occur, Mr. McQuade said.

"One way or another, it's going to get there," he said.

By Tuesday, the sewer in that area was totally inundated by the Shawsheen River, and the sewage mixed freely with the river water flowing onto North Main Street.

"I wouldn't drink it," Deputy Fire Chief James Lynch said as he watched the water flow into the street.

Mr. McQuade said there was no threat to the town's water supply,

Canterbury Street, just outside Andover Country Club and its golf course, was so badly flooded it was closed Tuesday.

Haggetts Pond, because there were no backups in that area and because the treatment plant was fully functioning.

Police and fire employees responded to scores of calls related to the storm Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The following are some of those calls and the effects of the storm:

By Tuesday morning:

- Several residents of four homes along North Main Street across from Shawsheen Plaza had been evacuated and were temporarily being housed at the Senior Center at Whittier Court. Water had filled their basements completely and was threatening to enter the first floors of the homes. (Some North Main and Riverina Road residents remained out of their homes as of Wednesday morning. Many stayed with relatives or at local hotels);

- Twenty residents of Marland Place, the new assisted-living facility in the old mill buildings along the Shawsheen River off Stevens Street, had been evacuated to Wingate nursing home on Andover Street. "The bottom floor (at Marland Place) is full already," said Dep. Fire Chief Lynch. Storage and refrigeration facilities are located on the first floor;

- Suburban Health Care Center, 15 Stevens St., was closed and evacuated, as the Shawsheen River crept up the back lot toward the building;

- Public Works crews were building dikes along the Shawsheen, trying to keep water out of the Washington Park apartments;

This photo was taken in front of the Balmoral building in Shawsheen Square Monday. By Tuesday, the water of the Shawsheen River had swollen to the top of the fence at left.

- River, North Main, Woburn and Salem streets remained closed, as did Jenkins and High Plain roads;

- By 2:30 p.m., residents of some buildings on Riverina Road were being evacuated.

On Monday:

- A cable fault in a utility pit on Elm

Street knocked out power to about 400 customers and downtown Andover, including the traffic lights on Main Street at about 5:15 p.m. Some power was restored in just over an hour but the downtown was dark until about 8:30 p.m.;

- Helen Suarez, of 224 N. Main St.,

the last house before the Shawsheen River, had more than a foot of water in her cellar Monday morning. "It's awful. Last night I was crying," Ms. Suarez said.

She smelled smoke early Monday morning and found her washing machine and dryer under water, with smoke coming out of the electrical outlet. Her son disconnected the two machines. She said her landlord, Anthony Mottolo, does everything he can, and had once put them up in a hotel for three days due to the flooding, but that there's no stopping the river. By Tuesday, she and her family had been evacuated again and their cellar was completely under water;

- Water was gushing out of the storm drain covers in the middle of Chestnut Street adjacent to the Park. The storm water was overflowing from Roger's Brook, which runs through a culvert under the street;

- A Punchard Street resident reported at about 9:45 a.m. having four feet of water in the basement of her house;

- Gas was shut off at an apartment building at 41 Elm St. at 10:30 a.m. due to flooding in the basement where furnaces and water heaters are located. Dozens of similar cases were reported throughout town Monday and Tuesday as water continued to rise in many basements;

- Police used a four-wheel-drive police cruiser Monday noon to enter a flooded area of Woburn Street to pluck a woman out of her stranded car;

- At 1 p.m., the brakes failed on the parking officer's three-wheel Cushman vehicle and it had to be abandoned behind Old Town Hall;

- The Barnard Building on Main Street closed down all businesses except the Athlete's Corner Monday after several inches of water backed up into the basement from the toilets there. The building remained closed Tuesday, but the backups had subsided and its owner was planning to allow businesses to re-open Wednesday;

- School transportation officials were trying at 1:15 p.m. to figure ways to maneuver school buses around flooded streets, including South Main, Woburn and River streets. Sections of High Plain and Jenkins roads were also closed;

- At 2:30 p.m. Monday, police reported the pond off Poor Street was overflowing into the roadway.

Sewer backups

Charles Schalick, of 89 Chestnut St., called the Townsman Monday morning to report that sewage was backing up into his basement.

"It's coming right up through the sink drain and the washing machine drain," Mr. Schalick said.

He also had water in his cellar that he was pumping out into his yard.

Mr. Schalick said he had called the DPW and health departments and everyone else he could think of to find relief. He was told about the sump pumps connected to sewer lines being a part of the problem. Bob McQuade, DPW director, said the sump pumps were more than part of the problem.

"Between sump pumps and people opening their sewer caps and draining their cellar into it, it is 100 percent of the problem," Mr. McQuade said.

Mr. McQuade confirmed Mr. Schalick's concern, that although people are not supposed to have connections to the sewer for sumps or be pumping water into it, there is nothing illegal about doing so. At least not yet.

"We're going to have to tighten that up somehow," Mr. McQuade said.

Street storm drains also used to be connected to the sewer system, but all those connections have been cut, as far as he knows, Mr. McQuade said, and no storm water enters the system other than through residents' basements. If it weren't for those, the sewer would work the same in dry or flooded conditions.

"The main problem is the hoses tying into it," Mr. McQuade said.

Mr. Schalick was surprised there are no fines or any sort of motivation for people to stop using the sewer for their drainage.

While those people are pumping water into the sewer lines, every time they flush their toilets, their sewage is going right into his basement, Mr. Schalick said.

"People like me who are down on a low point in the system, that's getting pumped right into my basement," Mr. Schalick said.

He said he hopes educating people might encourage them to disconnect the sump pumps from the sewer lines and drain the water elsewhere.

"It's a public health issue," Mr. Schalick said.

Addendum

At about 3:30 p.m. Monday afternoon, a weary looking Bob McQuade was seen coming out of town offices. A reporter asked where some of the trouble spots were on the roads, and he named a few. Then as the reporter and photographer started to leave he said, "If you find any others, don't call me."

Use care cleaning up

What is covered by insurance?

By Don Staruk

The water in basements and rivers from the more than 10 inches of rain that fell this week has subsided, or is in the process of doing so, but the cleanup is ongoing and many residents now have questions. How do you clean up after water contaminated with sewage has flooded the cellar? Are there health concerns? Does insurance cover the damage?

The answers are: with care, yes and maybe.

"The most common call that we're getting is, 'I've got a foot or two of water in my basement. Am I covered?'" said Michael J. Foster, vice president at Howe Insurance, 4 Punchard Ave.

The answer is no, according to Ms. Foster.

"There is no coverage available," he said. "Every homeowner's policy excludes this and you can't buy coverage for it."

The reason for the "no" is that water in a basement is a recurring problem to some degree, and insurance companies don't insure against such things, he said. He compared it to a leaky roof. If someone continually put in a claim for damage from a leaky roof, but didn't fix the roof, the insurer would cancel the policy. That is what insurance companies in general have done for leaky cellars.

If it makes anyone feel any better, the Howe agency's building had 4 inches of ground water in its basement Tuesday, "and we're not covered," Mr. Foster said.

Insurance companies do offer coverage for rare occurrences, such as "the unnatural accumulation of water from" lakes, ponds, rivers, streams and oceans, according to Mr. Foster.

And owners of properties in a flood plain should be aware of that because most lenders will not offer a mortgage for property in a flood plain without the coverage.

"It's a separate policy," Mr. Foster said, and cost about $300 to $400 annually for the average home.

This will give some relief to property owners who have the coverage. And Sheila Doherty, of Doherty Insurance, 21 Elm St., said some renters in the flood plain may be covered as well.

"If you buy contents coverage. It is available to a tenant for their contents," Ms. Doherty said.

Ms. Doherty said her company received "bunches" of calls about flooded basements, but that most callers pretty much knew they were not covered and were just hoping against hope that something in their policy may have changed.

Cleaning up, health concerns

Everett Penney, Andover's health director, said anyone cleaning up flooded cellars should use caution if there is any chance the water may have been contaminated with sewage.

People who are at high risk are those who have immuno-compromised systems, which may be from taking medication such as chemotherapy. Others at risk would include children, who are always more susceptible according to Mr. Penney, elders and pregnant women.

"The best thing you can do is not expose yourself to that," Mr. Penney said.

Any area where river water caused the flooding should be considered contaminated since the town's sewer system spilled over to the Shawsheen River.

It's been a difficult week

Did you happen to see the Associated Press story Tuesday that read, "It was part perseverance, part luck that bailed out Bob McQuade." The story went on to say that a man named Bob McQuade, who is the Scituate building manager, made 15 phone calls and visited five stores looking for a pump during this week's rain storm.

Andover's Bob McQuade, director of the Public Works Department, may have enough sump pumps, but he also most likely has a headache after Andover's rain storm of the century. The police, fire and DPW departments, as well as other town officials, neighbors and residents have been doing their best to rescue and bail out those in need.

We've heard from residents with water to the ceiling of their basement; we know of people with sewage in their basement; we know many are without heat and hot water; and many have had to leave their houses and their possessions.

It's upsetting to be invaded by a natural disaster. Helen Suarez, of 224 N. Main St., the house next to the Shawheen River, had more than a foot of water in her cellar Monday morning. "It's awful. Last night I was crying," Ms. Suarez said. By Tuesday, her cellar was full to the ceiling and she was evacuated.

We asked Michael Foster of Howe Insurance if homeowners' insurance usually covers water damage. He said no, and that people can't believe that when they call. To prove his point, Mr. Foster will tell you the Howe Insurance agency on Punchard Avenue has four inches of water and no coverage. Town Health Director Everett Penney has some helpful advice regarding cleaning contaminated basements. Mr. Howe's and Mr. Penney's thoughts are in the story on page 35. We had calls from some businesses, too, where water damage is going to be a problem. So if someone snaps at you this week, ask him if he has water damage at home or at his office. If someone you know is seriously ill, it would be helpful to offer to help her, perhaps in cleaning out a contaminated basement, or doing some grocery shopping. It has been a difficult week.

Barry Finegold: A terrific boy

Editor, Townsmen:

I remember Barry Finegold when he came to South School and was one of my students. A terrific boy!

Through the years, I have followed his progress and now I'm delighted to give him my vote. Good luck, Barry.

Jim Fox understands seniors' concerns

Editor, Townsmen:

Jim Fox stopped to visit with us this past summer, and with him, a big basket of the famous "Fox tomatoes." We enjoyed hearing all Jim had to say and he answered all our questions very well.

Jim is a senior citizen, so residents of Frye Circle know he understands our concerns. Having a senior represent us is what I need and will vote for Jim Fox for state rep.

This Republican's voting for Finegold

Editor, Townsmen:

I'm a long-time Andover resident, a senior citizen and a Republican and I'm voting for Barry Finegold for representative in the November election.

For the short time that Barry has been an Andover selectman, he has consistently been in favor of less taxes, controlled growth and open space. Mr. Fox wants a larger tax burden on residential addresses, and is in favor of lesser taxes on business, industry and commercial properties. Barry volunteers to be on committees, follows up on the concerns of the town as a whole, its youth, as well as its senior citizens.

As a selectman, Barry has been only a phone call away. His invitation to meet with him at the public library and open forums prove even further a strong commitment to his constituents.

As far as the scathing remarks in last week's Townsmen by Paul Connolly regarding Barry having offered no input concerning the High School and South School building projects, I'd like to know which selectman had any control or say about either of those fiascos? Did Mr. Connolly cast his vote at Town Meeting one way or the other on the school construction? I cannot locate his name listed (Paul?) in the 1995 Andover Street Directory as being a resident of Andover.

Barry has resided in this town his entire life, and has been actively involved in youth activities. Comments have surfaced regarding Barry's "youth," yet considering his age, he has been more involved with the future of this town than those of us who are twice this young man's age, including myself; yet as a senior citizen, I will gladly continue to sit back on my "duff" and let Barry look out for my best interests.

I am not a "volunteer" for a tax rebate, but it must be a big boost for those who have no pension coming to them, cannot afford a retirement plan or have to rely on only Social Security to help them make ends meet.

Would Mr. Fox take away Meals on Wheels, fuel assistance, free bus fare to the Senior Center, and day care for the elderly? I'm willing to bet that Mr. Fox is not only a gentleman, but a very good family man, as well. But where has he been all of these years? Let's give Barry a chance!

Jim Fox has maturity

Editor, Townsmen:

I am writing to ask that my friends support Jim Fox for state representative.

Jim has had a distinguished career in the financial-services industry and has an established record of contributing time and energy to the community.

Jim has the maturity and sincerity of purpose to represent us well with such issues as support of public education and working to reduce the sales tax.

The district is well served by having someone of Jim's accomplishment offering himself to public service.

Another Republican for Barry Finegold

Editor, Townsmen:

I've been a registered Republican for seven years, but this election, I'm voting for a Democrat for state representative - Barry Finegold. I've been looking for a candidate who is a fiscal conservative, who works hard on the issues that matter to our town and who is concerned for all our citizens, young and old. Barry Finegold fits the bill.

Let's look at the facts. Barry Finegold is currently on the Board of Selectman and voted to keep the residential real estate tax base low, he is in favor of a new senior center and a new youth center. He also favors some form of limited growth in town, supports additional funding for educational programming, supports a woman's right to choose and he has weekly office hours. Barry also attended and voted at all selectman and town meetings since he became a selectman.

James Fox, on the other hand, who was a long-time Democrat now turned Republican, did not attend 19 of the past 20 town meeting nights where such issues as spending money to improve our educational system, including new construction and computer system upgrading, were before us to consider.

Where was Mr. Fox when we needed him? Will he miss important votes on Beacon Hill when we need someone the most?

Now, I ask you, the voters of Andover, which candidate do you think will work hardest for us?

The answer can only be Barry Finegold.

Jim Fox: For people

Editor, Townsmen:

In regards to the candidate for state representative, James Fox, I think it to be a good idea. We need more candidates of his caliber and reputation.

He is for the people, very knowledgeable and a very successful human being that takes pride in his family and acknowledges a God up above. Where could you find a man like Jim with such a platform? Three simple things:

1. Fiscal responsibility; 2. solid education agenda; 3. strong public safety program.

However, what I wanted to say is what he can do for the senior citizens. First he could get together with the seniors in the Andover Commons, Stowe Court, Frye Circle, Grandview Terrace and explain his platform and most of the people know his wife, Ruth Ann, through church services. She is a wonderful woman, always ready to help any senior citizen. She is a great asset to Jim, a good campaigner and the people.

ple love and respect her.

People tell me he is always one of the first to volunteer his services to the Lawrence Elks and the Knights of Columbus. His efforts are appreciated in his quiet way and, of course, of his humanitarianism help to the Red Cross, of which he donated 65 pints of his blood. And last, but not least, his hobby and pride, the Andover Police Auxiliary, of which he gave 25 years of service towards law and order and his civic duty.

It amazes me how he sent his nine children to college. He must have been a super broker to do so. Half of his sons are professionals and well established. God bless him. A lot of the senior citizens I spoke to will gladly give him a vote. "God bless America land that I love" for giving us such an outstanding man of his class and honesty.

Vote the man. Vote James Fox.

Finegold is accessible to residents

Editor, Townsmen:

As a public servant and concerned citizen of Andover, I recognize someone who is dedicated to the needs and concerns of our community. That person is Barry Finegold. I have a high regard for Barry Finegold, both as a fellow public servant and as a person of strong moral character. As a selectman, Barry has been dedicated, extremely accessible to residents and very supportive of public safety issues in our community.

Barry is someone who truly cares and has an outstanding record of commitment and service to our town. He serves on the board of Fidelity House and he has volunteered for the Lazarus House and coached many of our youth, along with being actively involved in many community activities.

That is why I feel strongly that Barry Finegold would make an excellent state representative.

Finegold is committed to Fidelity House

Editor, Townsmen:

I can only guess what comes to mind when people think of politics, especially local politics. I had those same thoughts in my head until I met Barry Finegold. Barry represents and is the type of person you want to believe in. He has those old-fashioned values - hard work, sincerity and commitment coupled with his no-nonsense, issue and people-focus and pragmatic approach, which we absolutely need from our state representative today.

I had the pleasure of meeting Barry when he joined Fidelity House's board of directors.

In that role, he clearly demonstrated his commitment to those less fortunate, in this case retarded adults, in the Merrimack Valley. Not only did he understand the needs of the clients but also of the families of the clients and for the devoted people servicing those clients.

In subsequent meetings, I had the benefit of understanding Barry's thoughts on business and other important issues - how he worked to bring companies such as Putnam Investments to our town, how he wants to keep taxes low for all, his dedication to the Andover schools, which he knows first-hand, and how he plans to jumpstart the Lawrence economy, which has great potential given its rich heritage and diverse population.

Certainly, his youth will be perceived by skeptics as no experience. However, there are many examples (the software industry comes to mind) in our very fluid and fast-paced environment where youth brings new ideas, fresh approaches to long-standing problems and to say nothing of the burst of energy coming from Barry Finegold.

This teacher respects the Fox family

Editor, Townsmen:

I am writing in support of James Fox for state representative. As a neighbor of the Fox family for the past 10½ years, I have gotten to know Jim, Ruth Ann, their children and grandchildren. In doing so I have gained tremendous respect for them as parents, but most especially as a family. In the course of this election process I have also gotten to know Jim politically and have learned that his ideals are based in integrity.

As an educator and member of the Massachusetts Teachers Association for the past 24 years, I have been through many governmental administrations, the difficulties of Proposition 2½, and various other decisions that have either supported or devastated public education. As someone who has devoted his professional life to being an advocate for children, I would never suggest putting someone in public office who does not share my commitment to children and public education. In reviewing the questions and answers asked of the candidates by MTA VOTE, the political arm of the teachers association, I learned that Mr. Fox's responses were most supportive of public education.

Another undeniable fact in Jim Fox's life is his success in business. He has participated in or has himself built several businesses. He takes justifiable pride in his accomplishments. His record and experience would be of great benefit to his constituents in the decision-making process, which is government.

In closing, I truly believe that Mr. Fox's motivation for public office is just as he states, the wish to give something back to the community that has given him so much. He aspires to no more. Integrity, experience, community values, these are the values of Jim Fox and these values will get my vote.

GOP for Finegold

Editor, Townsmen:

As lifelong Republicans, my family has always voted for Republican candidates. However, this election will be different. We are voting for Barry Finegold for state representative because he possesses an ideology which closely reflects our own. Barry is a fiscal conservative who believes that government must be run like a business. Barry has a proven record of asking tough questions of bureaucrats and fighting to keep our taxes as low as possible. When it came to raising property taxes on homeowners, Barry stood alone in defending families like mine.

Barry Finegold is a candidate with real substance. From day one of his candidacy, he has been talking about the real issues facing our community and the commonwealth. Barry has run a positive campaign focusing on issues such as the education of our children, residential growth and a state tax policy that is family-friendly. Barry has the experience, integrity, and the commitment to get the job done.

Barry is committed to Andover's future and we urge all of my Republican friends to vote for Barry Finegold on Nov. 5.

Finegold is addressing the growth issue

Editor, Townsmen:

The Andover Townsman knows it and so does Barry Finegold ... Growth is a big issue in town. Last spring Barry had the courage to call a special meeting in the library to discuss the issue with citizens. He gave of his time, at a critical juncture in the discussions concerning the Champy property, and demonstrated a willingness to be involved even with the hard choices we faced. He assisted us in coming up with a compromise that cut the density of the Champy project in half and preserved 50 acres of land at no cost to taxpayers.

Barry worked to keep the communications open between conservation advocates and a developer to protect their divergent interests while promoting the public interest. Barry Finegold has won the confidence of both of us by acknowledging that the town's character is among its most important assets. He has had the courage to be involved and we would be proud to have him serve us as State Representative.

Barry Finegold has earned our support.

Finegold's parents are educators

Editor, Townsmen:

As a lifelong resident of Andover, I take great concern in who will represent our interests on Beacon Hill. I firmly believe that Barry Finegold has earned the right to be our next state representative. Barry is dedicated and hard-working, and he has a vision for the future of our community. Barry believes, as I do, that our community's future belongs to its children. He is the product of Andover's public schools and is the son of two wonderful educators. He is committed to ensuring that our children receive the highest quality of education.

Another issue that Barry feels strongly about is the building of a new senior center. I share his commitment. While some just talk about this issue, Barry has made a commitment to leading the effort on behalf of the senior citizens of Andover.

I urge everyone who cares about the future of our wonderful community to vote for Barry Finegold because our community is in his heart.

A vote for John Kerry

Editor, Townsmen:

In spite of their mutual trashing, Massachusetts is fortunate to have, in Kerry and Weld, two competent candidates for the U.S. Senate. Those who liked the actions and attitudes of the Gingrich-led Congress clearly find Weld an attractive choice, for he will certainly strengthen the hand of the Gingrich, Gramm, Helms, Arme, DeLay Republican leadership. For election purposes, this element of the party has maintained a low profile lately.

But the objectives and methods of this dominant wing of the Republican party, so evident in their control of Congress until six months ago, are unchanged and will surely be reactivated soon after the election.

Voters who think that a Senator Weld will be a moderating influence on Gingrich's true-believers should recall how he and other Republican moderates were swept aside at the San Diego Convention.

Kerry has a strong voting record in support of measures that are the nation's best interests. Because he is highly respected and has considerable seniority in the Senate, he also advances the interests of Massachusetts. Those concerned about campaign finances will note that he

Weld's election to the Senate would replace a proven, effective legislator by a man with no

Understanding Chiropractic

by Mark F. DeLorenzo, D.C.

WORK-RELATED INJURY

A survey of 30,074 working men and women over the age of 18 published in the American Journal of Public Health gives some good insight as to how workers become afflicted with back pain and back injury. Back pain from repeated motions, such as lifting, pushing, pulling, bending, twisting, or reaching affected 4.5% of workers (4.75 million people). This cause of back pain and injury was most prevalent among construction workers, mechanics, and operators of heavy machinery. About ten percent of people in these occupations suffer back pain. And, virtually all could benefit from the education that chiropractors can provide about lifting heavy objects correctly, as well as conducting other repetitive motions at work. While those who see chiropractors after they experience pain due to lifting injuries derive benefit, the greatest benefit comes to those who see the chiropractor as a preventive measure.

Pain is nature's way of signaling something is wrong. If you're suffering from back pain, at DeLORENZO CHIROPRACTIC GROUP we suggest you give chiropractic a try. Chiropractic is a system of natural health care. The longer the symptoms are treated with drugs, the more you are gambling with your health. Remember, if you ignore your health it will go away. Located at 15 Central Street, we utilize the most advanced and comprehensive equipment and procedures to deliver the finest chiropractic care. Please call 475-5042 to schedule an appointment.

P.S. It is estimated that, overall, 2.5% of workers in the U.S. suffer back pain annually due to work-related injury.

RESCUING TEETH WITH ERT

Postmenopausal women who engage in estrogen replacement therapy (ERT) to help fend off the bone loss associated with osteoporosis may find that the therapy helps preserve their teeth as well. The bone-thinning effect of osteoporosis causes the jaw to lose bone mass and the gums to recede. The effects of osteoporosis, which affect half of women over the age of 50, may help explain why 32% of American women aged 65 to 69 have lost teeth. However, encouraging news comes from a 1996 Harvard Medical School study of more than 40,000 postmenopausal women found that those who currently received the hormone were 27% less likely to lose their teeth than those who did not take it. Finding backs a previous study of nearly 4,000 postmenopausal women at the University of Southern California School of Medicine which found that taking estrogen for 15 years or more resulted in a 30% decrease in tooth loss.

Attorney Anthony R. DiFruscia

LAW OFFICES OF ANTHONY R. DiFRUSCIA

Attorney Anthony R. DiFruscia sums up his law practice in a single word: "service."

DiFruscia said his nearly 30 years as a lawyer allows him to balance the equities that make up the profession. His firm can provide legal assistance in bodily injury cases, jury trials, criminal cases, divorce, civil litigation and commercial litigation, including real estate transactions.

"We're really a basic family-oriented office," he said.

Seven attorneys make up his firm, which is located in offices with plenty of off-street parking, diagonally across from Lawrence High School and a conference room in Methuen. The attorneys are: DiFruscia, managing trial attorney; Kathleen Sullivan DiFruscia, managing attorney, bodily injury, work related and auto; Carol Weinstein Boileau, managing trial attorney, divorce, wills and probate; Jay S. Koplove, trial attorney, criminal, workmen's compensation and general practice; Jeffrey Kaye, NH counsel general practice; Henry Malis, attorney, of counsel; Eliot Choy, attorney, of counsel.

DiFruscia said a good lawyer should understand the art of negotiation. His own special strength and interest is trying cases before a jury, even though only about 5 percent of cases actually go to trial.

"It is not my interest to increase litigation, but rather provide the client with the best possible equitable result," he said.

The Law Offices of Anthony R. DiFruscia is more than a regional office. It has provided service to clients throughout New England, and has available conference rooms in a variety of other cities and towns. Phone response is available 24 hours. Transportation and home visits are provided as needed.

Gov. Council candidates debate

By Neil Fater

Republican Kevin Leach tried to make his support for establishing the death penalty and assuring life imprisonment for murderers a key issue during his brief Oct. 17 debate in Andover with Democrat Patricia Dowling. They were part of the League of Women Voters' candidates night at Memorial Hall Library.

Ms. Dowling, the incumbent, insinuated Mr. Leach is not even interested in the Governor's Council and is really focusing on being named Essex County sheriff.

The Governor's Council is an elected board that approves the governor's judicial appointments and any pardons, commutations and respite for felons approved by the governor.

When asked what three priorities he would pursue if elected, Mr. Leach said he would lobby for capital punishment and would approve only judges who will impose such punishment in case capital punishment becomes law in Massachusetts.

Ms. Dowling said she will continue "to work in the same vein that I have in the last two years," being very conservative in awarding pardons and commutations.

During his closing remarks, Mr. Leach said his opponent last year commuted the sentence of one of the murderers of a 56-year-old worker killed during an armed robber.

"I don't think that first degree murderers should have their sentence commuted," said Mr. Leach.

Ms. Dowling said the case her opponent refers to is exactly why people need to vote for someone like her who does her homework.

Ms. Dowling said Gov. Weld commuted the man's sentence and the Governor's Council supported this because of the circumstances.

The man was in the car outside the building when the murder happened, went to police afterward and told them what happened, and then spent 25 years in jail. While in jail he kicked a drug habit he developed in Vietnam and graduated from college, she said.

The man is "now at home in physical disrepair," said Ms. Dowling.

Sheriff candidate?

During the debate, Ms. Dowling asked Mr. Leach if he is truly interested in the Governor's Council. In his Governor's Council campaign literature, Mr. Leach asks people "to write the governor and ask him to appoint Kevin Leach as Sheriff of Essex County when a vacancy occurs."

Mr. Leach said he put comments about the sheriff position in the literature because people were asking him about it because he was instrumental in exposing the past corruption in the department.

Law background

One difference between the candidates' approaches is Ms. Dowling touts her experience as a lawyer, while Mr. Leach says, "I'm running for the Governor's Council because I'm not an attorney." He said he's someone who can give the perspective of the average person.

AHS soccer teams on a roll; golf team caps perfect record

AHS SPORTS
ROUNDUP

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High men's and women's varsity soccer teams, both headed for tournament play, stretched their regular season undefeated streaks through 10 and 14 games respectively.

The golf team completed a perfect regular season (16-0) and will next compete in the MIAA Division 1 North Sectional Qualifying Tournament next Monday at Beverly Country Club (postponed from last Monday because of torrential rain).

The AHS women's swim and women's cross country teams headed down the homestretch of their record-shattering seasons, both having posted eight victories for the first time ever.

MEN'S SOCCER

The Andover High men's soccer team continued to sizzle with four consecutive Merrimack Valley Conference shutouts recently, a 2-0 victory over Central Catholic preceded by 4-0 victories over Chelmsford and Dracut and a 1-0 triumph against Haverhill.

In the process the Golden Warriors qualified for the Eastern Mass. Division 1 Tournament for the 15th time in 21 years, and handed coach Dave Amundsen his milestone 250th career victory on Homecoming Weekend.

Amundsen is now 252-75-57 overall.

The locals, 9-5-2 overall and undefeated through 10 games (8-0-2), wrap up the regular season this week against Lowell (last night) and Haverhill (today, 3:30).

Andover, the two-time MVC champ, will finish third in the standings this fall behind Tewksbury and Billerica.

Eastern Mass. Division 1 North Tournament pairings are scheduled to be released next Wednesday, with AHS most likely on the road in its first round game Nov. 1 or 2.

The locals have gone to the North Sectional championship game each of the last two years.

Scoring leaders

Tim Smith paces the team in goals with 12 and total points with 15, while Jose Valdecasas is a close second with six goals and a team-high seven assists for 13 points.

Matt Rogers has 2-6-8 points, Mike Monteiro 5-1-6, Matt Yost 2-4-6 and Ryan Boilard 5-0-5.

Andover 2
Central Catholic 0

Andover reversed an earlier 2-0 score against the visiting Raiders under the lights at Lovely Field, blanking the last team to beat the locals (Sept. 25).

Both goals came in the first half, senior midfielder Ryan Boilard scoring from a scramble during the 17th minute and junior middle Jose Valdecasas adding the insurance 14 minutes later.

Captain Matt Yost assisted on the first goal and Peter Ellis set up the second.

"We had two other goals called back in the second half," said coach Amundsen. "Matt Yost lost one on a perceived hand ball and Dave Sullivan lost one on a perceived charging penalty."

"Valdecasas played very well, with four or five more testing shots in addition to his goal, and our defense was solid against a strong charge mounted by Central."

"Our midfielders did a good job of controlling the play and handling the physical stuff," added Amundsen.

Goalkeeper Phil Ayoub made six saves on the way to his fourth consecutive shutout, and the team's fifth whitewash of the season, while Captain Tim Smith contributed a strong effort.

The Golden Warriors finished with a 17-6 shots-on-goal edge.

Haverhill 0

Tim Smith scored his team-high 12th goal on a direct kick midway through the first half, and the suddenly-impenetrable Golden Warriors' defense made it stand up on the way to a third straight shutout.

"It was very windy and the Haverhill field, which is small, was like a quagmire in spots," said coach Amundsen.

"We still aren't scoring a lot of goals, and three or four players are doing most of the (offensive) damage, but their output and our consistent defensive play have been keys to the turnaround."

Junior goalkeeper Phil Ayoub made six saves for his third individual shutout, and the team's fourth whitewash, while other standouts included defenders Rob Busby, Josh Hoerner and forward/midfielder Matt Yost.

Andover 4
Chelmsford 0

Captain Tim Smith recorded the Golden Warriors' first hat trick of the season, scoring the final three goals to break open the home game under the lights at Lovely Field.

Mike Monteiro launched the attack midway through the first half, his goal assisted by junior line-mate Matt Rogers, and six minutes later Smith began his personal assault on Lions' goalkeeper Chris Boucher (14 saves) with the assist to Captain Matt Yost.

Smith completed his trick by netting rapid-fire goals two minutes apart with less than five minutes left in the game.

Defender Rob Busby's throw-in set up the first tally, and Monteiro hit Smith with a touch pass shortly thereafter to complete a nice play started by senior sweeper Shaun Connors.

"It was an outstanding team effort," said coach Amundsen in reference to career win No. 249. "Phil Ayoub only had to make four saves in net, but he definitely earned his first shutout with two terrific stops late in the first half when Chelmsford was swarming our end."

"Monteiro's goal came on an opportunistic play, when he pounced on the ball in front of their net and jammed it home. We also had four shots hit the post (Matt Yost, Matt Wessler, Ryan Boilard, Peter Ellis) and finished with an 18-4 shooting edge," added Amundsen.

Cited for strong efforts were Jose Valdecasas, midfielders Ellis and Boilard, and defenders Josh Hoerner and Captain Roger Foltz.

The victory avenged a 1-0 shutout loss to Chelmsford on Sept. 19.

Andover 4
Dracut 0

Career victory No. 250 was achieved before a Homecoming Weekend crowd.

"We accomplished what we came to do, and it was nice to keep on a roll," said coach Amundsen. "After the start we had this season, it's nice to be within two points of tournament qualification with four games left."

Matt Rogers opened the scoring eight minutes into the contest, sneaking a header inside the far post off a corner kick by Jose Valdecasas.

Valdecasas boosted the lead to 2-0 midway through the first half, drilling a 20-yard direct kick over Dracut goalkeeper Ryan Grassis' outstretched arms for his fifth goal.

Matt Yost flicked in Tim Smith's rolling corner kick 22 minutes into the second half for a 3-0 cushion, and Smith's team-high 11th goal wrapped up the offense late in the game with Dave Sullivan assisting.

Phil Ayoub played the first 65 minutes in net and made six saves, while Bob Rawlinson preserved the team's second straight shutout and third of the season with two stops over the final 15 minutes in his varsity debut.

Defensive standouts included sweeper Shaun Connors, wing-full-backs Brian Kramer and Jeff Cutler, and midfielder Justin LeCam.

The victory avenged a 2-1 loss to the Middies on Sept. 21.

WOMEN'S SOCCER

The Andover High women's varsity soccer team lost out on its bid for a third straight Merrimack Valley Conference title when it was held to a 2-2 tie by Methuen recently.

That costly draw followed a 2-1 payback victory over previously-undefeated Billerica High, but the Indians (14-1-0) still went on to grab the league title for the third time in six years.

Other recent victories included a 3-0 shutout of Chelmsford, a 4-0 decision over first-year team Central Catholic, a 1-0 triumph against visiting tournament qualifier Marian High of Framingham and a 3-1 win over Haverhill.

The victory over Marian officially clinched the Lady Warriors' 11th Eastern Mass. Division 1 Tournament berth in the last 12 years.

Coach Dick Loschi's Lady Warriors improved to 10-1-4 overall and finished 9-1-3 in the league, three points behind Billerica.

They entered the week riding a 14-game win streak started after a season-opening loss to Billerica.

The regular season concludes with a trio of non-league games this week at Waltham (Tuesday), home against Arlington Catholic (tonight, 6 p.m.) and home with North Andover (Saturday, 7 p.m.).

Tournament pairings are scheduled to be released next Wednesday, with first-round games Nov. 1 and 2.

Scoring leaders

Sarah Muller tops the team in overall scoring with six goals and seven assists for 13 points.

Jess Smith has 6-5-11, Noelle Blank 7-2-9, Jen Murnane 4-2-6 and Stephanie Banos 3-3-6.

Goalkeeper Julie Viola has three solo shutouts, Kaitlin Dargan two and the pair have combined for three shutouts.

Injury report

Charlotte Muller, who sprained a knee in the 2-2 tie with Methuen, was scheduled to see the doctor yesterday for an update on the injury.

She may return to the lineup tonight or remain sidelined until Saturday's North Andover game.

Methuen 2

The Lady Warriors, whose three MVC ties cost them a share of a ninth league title, struggled to their second 2-2 deadlock of the season with the visiting Rangers under the lights at Lovely Field.

The locals took a 1-0 lead just 96 seconds into the game on junior midfielder Carey Levine's first goal of the season, unassisted, as she intercepted the ball and blasted a 30 yard shot over the Ranger goalkeeper's head.

Methuen tied it later in the first half and took a 2-1 lead early in the second.

Captain Jen Murnane capped the offense at 11:18 with her fourth goal, assists to Jess Smith and junior defender Kristen Foley.

Foley initiated the scoring play with a pass to junior middle Smith on the right side. Smith fired a long crossing pass over the keeper's head and Murnane deflected the ball into the net off her body.

"I'm not sure why, but we were flat early in the game," said coach Loschi. "We seemed to let up a little after Levine scored the early goal. We re-focused after Methuen tied it. I felt we carried play and had the better chances in the second half."

The shots were even, 7-7, and AHS junior keeper Julie Viola finished with five saves.

Cited for strong play were sweeper Charlotte Muller, before she left with a sprained knee, Barbara Contos who stepped in at sweeper and Kristen Foley who played stopper.

Billerica 1

The Indians, who blanked Andover 2-0 in the season opener, grabbed a 1-0 lead on Wendy Boudreau's goal at 10:44 of the first half.

Jessica Smith tied it on a penalty kick at 24:13, her fourth goal set up by Noelle Blank's aggressive play as she forced the Billerica defense to take her down in the penalty area.

It remained 1-1 until Stephanie Banos pocketed her third goal, the game winner, at 17:10 of the second half with assists to Sarah Muller and Smith.

"Smith controlled the ball at midfield, and passed right wing side to Muller who had a step on the Billerica defender," said coach Loschi. "Sarah crossed the ball to Banos at the 10 yard marker and she drove it past the Billerica keeper."

Viki Pierce and Amy Axelrod were responsible for shutting down two of the state's top scorers, four-year veterans Jackie MacLean (80 career goals) and Boudreau.

"Both Viki and Amy played exceptional defensive games," said coach Loschi. "MacLean didn't have an uncontested shot on net the entire game."

Barbara Contos and Charlotte Muller also contributed strong defensive games, while Captain Jen Murnane was a force up front.

The Lady Warriors finished with a slim 10-8 shots-on-goal edge, Julie Viola making seven saves for Andover and BMHS keeper Lisa Daye credited with eight stops.

"This was a very big win for three reasons," said coach Loschi. "It showed our kids they can forget what happened at the beginning of the season. It also proves we can stay with a Division 1 team in a big game and pick up our level of play, and it's the first step to the tournament. Four of our last six games are against tournament qualifiers."

Jess Smith netted her fifth and sixth goals of the season, while Noelle Blank added her team-high seventh, as the Lady Warriors wrapped up the MVC campaign with another shutout triumph under the lights at Chelmsford's Simonian Stadium.

All three goals came in the first half of the game, played with a brisk wind blowing and a light rain falling over the final five minutes.

The Lady Warriors did all their damage in the first half, Smith launching the attack on a direct kick at 11:23.

Fifteen minutes later Blank made it 2-0, depositing a shot after some checkerboard passing with Sarah Muller and Stephanie Banos who collected the assists.

Smith took a pass from Blank and blasted a 30-yard shot into the Lions' cage with five minutes left in the half.

Goalkeepers Kaitlin Dargan and Julie Viola shared the shutout, playing one half each and making three saves apiece. It was the eighth overall team shutout and the third time the pair have combined.

Coach Loschi lauded the solid efforts of defenders Sarah Walker and Viki Pierce, along with forwards Megan Munroe and Katie Sullivan.

Noelle Blank's fifth goal of the season at 8:26 of the first half was all the offense necessary against Marian, which is battling for the Catholic Conference championship.

Team-high scorer Sarah Muller set up the goal by breaking down the wing and crossing a pass in front of the Marian net. Blank deflected the ball away from and behind the keeper before booting it home.

Julie Viola made seven saves for her third solo shutout and the team's seventh whitewash of the season.

"It was a rough, physical game against a quality opponent," said coach Loschi. "Nothing came easily. It was a tournament-type game where we had to play hard for 80 minutes."

"Both teams were coming off big league wins, us over Billerica and Marian against Bishop Fenwick, and play was ragged and chippy. You have to win the close ones if you're going to be successful."

Cited for their defensive work were Barbara Contos, Viki Pierce and midfielders Kristi Keller and Carey Levine.

Andover 3 Haverhill 1

Sophomore forward Katie Sullivan's second goal of the season, at 35:22 of the first half, broke a scoreless tie.

Sarah Muller and Catherine Ostrofsky notched assists, Ostrofsky feeding Muller for a left-wing crossing pass to Sullivan who re-directed the ball into the net.

Sarah Muller's sixth goal at 22:49 of the second half, set up by Noelle Blank, made it 2-0 as the sharpshooter blasted a 20 yard shot from right wing to the farside corner.

Haverhill cut the deficit and spoiled the shutout four minutes later, but Blank's sixth goal at 34:34 provided the insurance.

Jess Smith intercepted the ball and passed it to the middle, where Blank broke in alone on the Hillies' keeper and lined a shot into the far corner.

"Noelle has started scoring in the last two weeks," said coach Loschi. "She isn't really doing anything different, but shots that were hitting the post and crossbar are now going into the net."

"We took the previous day (Sunday) off because we'd gone 10 days without a break," said coach Loschi. "This one was on Monday morning and we're never sharp in morning games. It took us almost a half to get untracked."

Contributing strong efforts were forward Megan Munroe, midfielders Kristi Keller and Erin Baggeroer, and defenders Beth Murphy and Kristen Foley.

Kaitlin Dargan played her first full game in net in three weeks and finished with four saves.

Captain Michelle Crispo, injured just three minutes into the season opening game against Billerica back on Sept. 10, returned to the lineup for the first time.

"We'll ease her into the games," said coach Loschi. "It's very good to have her back."

Andover 4 Central Catholic 0

Freshman defender Amy Axelrod scored her first varsity goal, and the only one necessary, just 2:34 after the opening faceoff in the first-ever girls' soccer game between these two schools.

Axelrod intercepted the ball at midfield, dribbled in and fired a 25-yard shot that beat CCHS goalkeeper April Boettcher (nine saves) cleanly.

Noelle Blank deposited the first of her two goals at the 25:45 mark, converting a pass from Jen Murnane, and Stephanie Banos made it 3-0 at 37:41 by netting a header off a crossing pass from the right wing side by Jess Smith.

Blank completed the scoring at 14:20 of the second half with the set-up to Beth Har.

"It was interesting to walk on the field and play Central Catholic for the first time," said coach Loschi. "They have a young and aggressive team, but their players aren't skilled yet. We did a good job controlling them."

Goalkeepers Julie Viola (first half), Kaitlin Dargan (20 minutes) who came off injured reserve, and Suzie Clarke (20 minutes) in her varsity debut combined for the team's sixth shutout.

Strong defensive efforts were contributed by Viki Pierce and Beth Murphy.

Andover 3 Tewksbury 0

Sophomore goalkeeper Kaitlin Dargan was required to make only two saves on her way to the Lady Warriors' third straight shutout win.

The hosts struggled early against winless Tewksbury, but broke the scoreless tie with three second-half goals 26 minutes apart.

"We were far from smooth after being inactive two days because of rain," said coach Loschi. "But the girls played hard and we definitely dominated."

"Against the better teams we'll need to crank it up right from the start."

Junior midfielder Jessie Smith's first goal of the season at 4:37 of the second half got the offense untracked.

Smith intercepted a clearing pass and drilled a 25-yard shot over the Tewksbury keeper's head for a 1-0 lead.

Junior Sarah Muller netted her second goal on a 20-yard blast at 17:29, with junior defender Barbara Contos notching the assist after she also picked up an attempted clearing pass by the Redgals.

Senior forward and Captain Jen Murnane added another insurance goal at 30:32, heading in a crossing pass from Sarah Muller for her first goal of the campaign.

Defensive standouts for the Lady Warriors, who finished with a huge 21-2 shots-on-goal edge, were junior Viki Pierce, freshman midfielder K.C. Dexter and senior mid-die Catherine Ostrofsky.

Andover 2 Methuen 2

The Rangers, who have never beaten the Lady Warriors in soccer, jumped to a surprising 2-0 lead on a pair of goals one minute apart midway through the first half.

Those goals snapped a string of three consecutive complete-game shutouts and more than 280 minutes without allowing an opponent to score.

'Andover Connection' at Union College

By Rick Harrison

There is a definite "Andover Connection" on the 1996 Union College women's soccer team this fall, with three town residents playing for the Schenectady, N.Y., school.

Competing for the Dutchwomen are freshman forward Abigail Harris, a Phillips Academy graduate, sophomore defender Sarah Moss, who graduated from Middlesex School in Concord, Ma., and freshman defender Katie Hayes, who graduated from Brooks School in North Andover.

Union got off to a fast start, winning three of its first four games, and Harris was on the team scoreboard with one assist.

Jessie Smith's second goal of the season, on a penalty kick, cut the deficit in half at 24:32 of the first half.

Senior forward Noelle Blank's first goal, unassisted, forged the tie at 26:40 of the second half. She emerged from a goalmouth scramble, following an AHS corner kick, and deposited the ball past the Methuen keeper from in tight.

Kaitlin Dargan played the first half in net for the Lady Warriors, while Julie Viola took over for the final 40 minutes and held Methuen scoreless. The pair combined for five saves.

"It was a nice comeback, showing our kids can rally after falling behind," said coach Loschi. "They didn't panic."

"We had several excellent chances to win the game at the end but their keeper (Sarah Riedel) played very well (12 saves). We hit the crossbar once, and had two other shots trickle behind her and lay on the goal line before Methuen defenders cleared the ball."

Defensive standouts for Andover included Viki Pierce, freshman Amy Axelrod and junior midfielder Carey Levine.

Andover 0 Dracut 0

Despite a huge 17-3 advantage in shots-on-goal, the Lady Warriors were unable to dent the scoreboard and had to settle for the tie.

"We were flat and out of sync," said coach Loschi. "Dracut plays on a smaller field, and that is to their advantage because it negates our superior speed and quickness."

"We had a shot hit the crossbar, and twice their keeper made point-blank saves on Kolleen Cronin."

Julie Viola made three saves in the Andover net for the team's fourth shutout, while other standouts included midfielder Carey Levine and defenders Beth Murphy and junior Viki Pierce.

Andover 7 Chelmsford 1

Sarah Muller and Kristi Keller both scored twice in the Lady Warriors' biggest offensive outburst of the season under the lights at Lovely Field.

Freshman midfielder K.C. Dexter got the offense untracked with her second goal of the season at 15:50 of the opening half. She took a pass from Keller, a junior midfielder, and blasted home a 30-yard shot.

Muller connected just 27 seconds later, completing a nice give-and-go passing play with Dexter.

Jessica Smith's third goal at 25:55, making it 3-0, was unassisted as she intercepted a Chelmsford clearing pass and drilled a 20-yard shot into the net.

The Lions then connected to make it 3-1, but Noelle Blank got that one back at 38:18 on a hustle play. Blank, who was assisted by Captain Jen Murnane, kept pounding away during a scramble and eventually punched home a second rebound for her second goal of the campaign.

Muller's team-high fourth goal at 5:13 of the second half was assisted by linemate Stephanie Banos.

Keller netted the first of her pair at 14:15, heading in a corner kick by Dexter to jump the score to 6-1.

Keller wrapped things up at 36:20, with less than four minutes remaining, when she converted a set-up pass by junior defender Erin Baggeroer.

"The girls did some soul-searching after the scoreless tie against Dracut, and came up with a much better overall team effort," said coach Loschi.

"It was our smoothest game of the season. We played with more confidence and better team awareness."

"It was an impressive show, one we hope carries over to the rest of the year."

Goalkeeper Julie Viola finished with two saves, while other defensive standouts included midfielders Carey Levine and Kolleen Cronin along with fullbacks Barbara Contos and senior Sarah Walker.

Andover 4 Notre Dame 0

Once again the locals caught fire in the second half, scoring three goals to break the game open.

Sarah Muller's fifth goal of the season, unassisted, gave AHS a 1-0 lead at 17:08 of the first half.

Muller set up the second goal at 9:46 of the final half, feeding a perfect crossing pass to Captain Jen Murnane for a one-touch blast past NDA goalkeeper Lauren Gustus (13 saves) from 12 yards out.

Sophomore forward Katie Sullivan pocketed her first goal of the fall at 24:04, jabbing home a rebound with assists credited to both Megan Munroe and Kolleen Cronin.

Stephanie Banos completed the offense at 33:29 with another rebound goal, Munroe picking up her second assist of the contest.

"Scoring twice on rebounds was encouraging because it shows an aggressive attacking posture by our players," said coach Loschi. "Because we were again on a much smaller field, we devised a different tactic. We went with a seldom-used 4-2-4 alignment that kept Notre Dame bottled up and freed our midfielders to use their speed.

"It served its purpose today, but a 4-2-4 would not work in most situations."

Goalkeeper Julie Viola was not severely tested as she chalked up her second solo shutout of the season and the team's fifth whitewash in eight games.

Also cited for strong play were freshman midfielder K.C. Dexter, junior defender Barbara Contos and senior forward Noelle Blank.

FIELD HOCKEY

Victories remained at a premium for the Andover High varsity field hockey team, which broke a recent drought with a 1-0 triumph over Merrimack Valley Conference rival Dracut.

Andrea Buonaugorio, the locals' hottest scorer over the second half of the season, pocketed the deciding goal in Andover's second victory of the campaign.

In other recent action, AHS suffered close defeats to non-league Concord-Carlisle (3-1) and Merrimack Valley Conference opponents Methuen (2-1), Haverhill (2-1) and Chelmsford (2-0).

The Lady Warrior stickwomen also tied Tewksbury, Lawrence and non-league rival North Andover, all 1-1, and were scheduled to complete the 1996 season this past Tuesday with an away game against league champion Tyngsboro.

AHS entered that finale with a 2-9-6 overall won-lost-tied record and 2-6-5 league ledger.

Andover 1 Lawrence 1

Andrea Buonaugorio's sixth goal of the season came in the second half and enabled the Lady Warriors to earn their fourth 1-1 tie of the season.

Keri Levis assisted on the AHS goal and Carrie Torrisi was immense in net as she preserved the tie with 12 saves.

Andover 1 Dracut 0

Both Lady Warriors' victories this fall have been 1-0 at Dracut's expense.

Junior forward Andrea Buonaugorio scored the only goal necessary, assisted by junior linemate Allison McCray.

Captain Michelle Empey and Keri Levis also played strong games up front, while goaltender Carrie Torrisi registered seven saves on the way to her third shutout.

Andover 1 Tewksbury 1

Junior forward Andrea Buonaugorio traded late first-half goals with Melissa Doherty of Tewksbury, less than two minutes apart, and the opposing defenses controlled the second half as the rivals struggled to their second 1-1 draw of the season.

Junior midfielder Christy Birrell set up the AHS goal, and junior netminder Carrie Tossisi made seven saves in another top performance.

Methuen 2 Andover 1

The rivals, who battled to a 2-2 tie earlier this fall, were locked in a scoreless standoff at the half.

The Rangers scored twice early in the second half to break on top, and the only answering fire Andover could muster was junior forward Andrea Buonaugorio's first goal of the season.

Junior forward Alison McClearn had the only AHS assist, while junior goaltender Carrie Torrisi made five saves.

Junior forward Keri Levis continued her strong play for the locals, while junior defender Jackie White also turned in a solid performance.

It was the third one-goal defeat for Andover this season.

Andover 1

North Andover 1

The teams traded second-half goals and Lady Warriors' netminder Carrie Torrisi preserved the tie by making nine saves, as the Scarlet Knights (5-4-3) finished with a 10-5 shots-on-goal edge in the game played under the lights at Lovely Field.

Team-high goalscorer Christy Birrell netted her third of the season for Andover, with the assist passed out by Andrea Buonaugorio

Tisbert TD run only bright spot, 28-6

FOOTBALL

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High football team's offensive unit got one King Kong-sized monkey off its back by ending a 17-quarter scoring drought in the fourth period of its game with undefeated defending Merrimack Valley Conference champion Tewksbury.

The 14-yard TD run by quarterback Brian Tisbert was almost worth the price of admission all by itself, as the senior signal-caller broke several tackles before diving into the end zone on an excellent second-effort play.

That was the good news.

The bad news was the winless streak was extended to four games, the Redmen (6-0) notching one touchdown in each quarter on the way to a 28-6 victory under the lights at Lovely Field.

The Golden Warriors (1-4) showed flashes of brilliance, especially with the running game, which gained 112 yards. Head coach Ken Maglio's crew also cut way down on the penalties, which had destroyed them the previous week against Haverhill. Andover was flagged only once for five yards in the Tewksbury game.

But turnovers and inexperience in the line continued to plague the locals.

Andover lost the ball four times on giveaways, with the Redmen intercepting two passes and recovering two of the Golden Warriors' four fumbles.

Tewksbury's uncharacteristic size up front, quickness on defense and depth in the offensive backfield impressed Maglio.

"This is the biggest Tewksbury team I've seen. And they have so many great backs. (Tim) Lavoie is a tough runner, (Dave) Shunamon was super and (Matt) Petros is very talented."

Some league observers feel this year's TMHS edition may be even stronger than the 1995 crew, which went undefeated in the league (10-0) before losing 28-14 to host Walpole in the Eastern Mass. Division 2-B Super Bowl in December.

Lavoie tough

Lavoie led the visitors to their 17th consecutive regular season victory by scoring three touchdowns on 12-, three- and one-yard runs.

Shunamon contributed a 21-yard TD run late in the first half, and he also led all rushers in the game with 104 yards. Lavoie added 83 yards and Petros 67 as the Redmen mounted a 270-yard ground assault.

Lavoie is one of the state's top scorers with 14 touchdowns for 84 points, and both he and Shunamon have close to 500 yards rushing.

Tisbert's last-minute touchdown was his second of the season, giving him a team-high 15 total points (see box, above).

Senior halfback Ryan Games went over the 300-yard mark for the season as he once again led the AHS rushing game with 59 yards in 15 carries.

Tisbert added 44 yards on 13 tries, but once again the skilled quarterback was forced to scramble in most passing situations and only completed three of 11 through the air for 35 yards.

Junior wide receiver Joe Maglio caught two passes for 25 yards and big 6'4", 225-pound tight end Matt Muench added a 10-yard reception.

Tewksbury tried two field goals, neither of which connected, with placekicker Helder Rosa short on a 46-yard try and wide right on a 40-yarder.

Mike Smith and Lavoie had the Redmen interceptions, while Jim Callanan's fumble recovery at the Andover 20 set up the first TD midway through the opening quarter.

Lowell tomorrow

Further proof that there are few breathers on the schedule is tomorrow night's opponent.

Lowell High will be at Lovely Field for another 7 p.m. kickoff, and the Red Raiders enter with a 3-1 league record and 3-3 overall mark.

After splitting a pair of one-point games to open the season, losing to non-league Woburn 21-20 and edging Haverhill 22-21 in overtime, Lowell dropped two more tough decisions to Tewksbury, 12-7, and traditional state Division 1 power New Bedford, 26-24.

Coach Dennis Scannell's team has won its last two, however, blasting Chelmsford 35-6, and cruising to a 34-20 victory over Dracut last weekend.

Leading the way is power runner Mike Kowalski, who has nine touchdowns and 698 yards rushing despite missing one game and parts of two others with a nagging ankle injury.

Tailback James Parks, a transfer from Illinois, has 30 points and Haverhill transfer Randy Hebert 22 points despite having to sit out the first two games.

Quarterbacks Jason Lewis (three TD passes) and Joe Michaud (two passes) have split the duties.

Andover edged Lowell 14-13 last year, but the Red Raiders own an 8-5 edge in the last 13 games between the rivals, with four of them decided by one point.

Frames Unlimited

Frames Unlimited has been framing pictures for the past 16 years at Shawsheen Plaza in Andover. Whether you are framing one piece or 100, Joel Steinberg and Steve Martin, Frames Unlimited's two full-time framers, are there to help with your choice, and with an extensive selection of moldings and mats. All work is done on the premises and can be ready when you need it.

Frames Unlimited welcomes associate framer Deb Putnam to their ranks.

Along with their custom framing capabilities, Frames Unlimited also carries a very large selection of ready-made frames, prints and posters that can be ordered for you. They are also able to put any of their frames around mirrors to suit your needs. Beveled mirrors are a popular item for today's home needs.

The Artist of the Month program is very popular and enjoyed by everyone who happens along.

The artist for November is photographer Wilda Squires of Andover, and for December will be water colorist Arlene Greenspan, also of Andover.

Frames Unlimited has been serving the community since 1981. Hours are Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Thursday and Friday 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Frames Unlimited is closed Sunday and Monday.

AHS SPORTS ROUNDUP

netted the lone Lady Warriors' goal in the first half, but the Hillies countered with a pair of scores in the opening 30 minutes and hung tough through a scoreless second half.

Goaltender Carrie Torrisi finished with five saves, while Keri Levis and Christy Birrell delivered their usual strong efforts.

GOLF

The Merrimack Valley Conference champion Andover High golf team completed a perfect 16-0 regular season with victories over host Methuen, 10-2 at Merrimack Golf Club, and host Haverhill, 8-4, at Haverhill CC.

Coach Bob Lawson's Golden Warriors, in capturing their third consecutive league title, finished with a huge five-match advantage over second place Chelmsford (10-4-2) and Billerica (10-5-1).

Action heats up next Monday when Andover competes in the annual North Sectional Division 1 Team and Individual Championship Tournament at Beverly Country Club.

Top two golfers Rob Oppenheim and Pat Annese are expected to represent the Golden Warriors at the annual MVC Individual Championships, which were postponed Tuesday because of heavy rains with no new date announced as of presstime.

Andover 8 Haverhill 4

The Golden Warriors capped the undefeated season with their second 8-4 win over the Hillies this fall.

Rob Oppenheim once again led the way with an individual match victory, shooting a three-over 38 for a share of the medalist honors with Haverhill's Jason Porro.

Christian Sempere carded a 39 and captured his match, while other AHS points were chalked up by Andy Mummey, Nick Branzetti, Geoff Gresh and Mike Sheehy.

Andover 10 Methuen 2

Captain Andy Mummey shared overall medalist honors with a one-over 35, and he also won his individual match.

Rob Oppenheim carded a 37 and chalked up his 12th win of the season, while other AHS victors were sophomore Christian Sempere, sophomore Nick Branzetti, senior Geoff Gresh and sophomore twin brothers Mike and Tim Sheehy.

Pat Annese carded a 38 but fell victim to the Rangers' Jeff Briggs who matched Mummey's 35.

Andover 7 1/2 Chelmsford 4 1/2

Strength at the top and bottom of the lineup enabled the locals to withstand some problems in the middle as they trimmed the Lions.

Junior No. 1 and Captain Rob Oppenheim returned to his winning ways with a convincing victory, and he also shared medalist honors for the day with a three-over 37 at Chelmsford Country Club.

Also chalking up individual victories for the league leaders were senior No. 2 Pat Annese, sophomore No. 6 Kevin Barry, sophomore No. 7 Tim Sheehy and sophomore twin brother Mike Sheehy at No. 8.

Andover captured two best ball points outright and halved another to complete the scoring.

Andover 11 Central Catholic 1

The locals completed a sweep of the two-match season series against the Raiders with this overpowering display at Hickory Hill GC in Methuen.

Three Golden Warriors broke 40 and won matches handily, No. 2 Pat Annese earning medalist honors with a one-over 37, No. 1 Rob Oppenheim carding a 38 and Andy Mummey shooting a 39.

Also chalking up individual match wins for the locals were sophomore No. 5 Christian Sempere, sophomore No. 6 Kevin Barry, No. 7 Nick Branzetti and No. 8 Mike Sheehy.

Andover swept all four best ball points.

AHS also belted Central in the season opener for both teams last month at Indian Ridge CC, 10 1/2 to 1 1/2.

Andover 10 1/2 Lowell 1 1/2

Seven of the eight head-to-head matches went to the Golden Warriors as they rolled over visiting Lowell at Indian Ridge CC.

No. 1 Rob Oppenheim was the medalist for the third time this fall, firing a one-over 37, while No. 2 Pat Annese continued his consistent play at No. 2 with a 38.

Also emerging victoriously were No. 4 Christian Sempere, No. 5 Kevin Barry, No. 6 Nick Branzetti, and twin brothers Tim and Mike Sheehy at Nos. 7 and 8 respectively.

Andover 7 Tewksbury 5

The struggling Redmen (1-5) gave the undefeated league leaders a scare before succumbing in the match at Indian Ridge CC.

Senior No. 2 Pat Annese was on fire as he carded a one-under 35 for medalist honors, and captured his match to lead the way.

Junior No. 1 and Captain Rob Oppenheim earned his fifth victory this season and finished with a one-over 37.

Senior Captain Andy Mummey produced a big win at No. 4, registering a birdie on the ninth hole to earn a 1-up triumph.

Sophomores Nick Branzetti and Mike Sheehy, slotted at No. 7 and 8 respectively, were the other Andover winners.

The teams split the four best ball points.

Andover 8 1/2 Methuen 3 1/2

Pat Annese continued to sparkle as he fired a blistering two-under par 34 and won his individual match to pace the AHS juggernaut.

Rob Oppenheim lost for only the second time this season despite firing a 39, as the Rangers' No. 1 man Jeff Briggs carded a 37 and won the showdown, 2-up.

Adding individual match wins for the locals were Kevin Barry, Tim Sheehy and Mike Sheehy.

CROSS COUNTRY

The Andover High women's cross country team put the wraps on a near-perfect regular season, finishing second to state power Tewksbury in the Merrimack Valley Conference, with recent victories over Haverhill (22-35), Methuen (20-37) and Lowell.

Those results left the Lady Warriors at 9-1 overall, including eight straight victories following the only loss early in the season to Tewksbury (22-37).

"It was an amazing year for the girls," said head coach Leo Lafond. "They were very consistent and ran tough against everyone including Tewksbury. We were the only team Tewksbury didn't blow out."

The AHS men closed a 4-5 campaign with a 15-45 romp over Haverhill, a tough tiebreaker loss to Methuen and a setback to Lowell in the dual meet finale.

Coach Lafond's harriers will next compete in the annual MVC League Championship Meet this Saturday at Chelmsford High (10 a.m.).

Andover women sweep

Although Haverhill's undefeated runner Tricia Guertin was the individual race winner, covering Methuen's 2.7 mile course in 17:04, the Lady Warriors swept the next three places and grabbed five of the top 10 spots to defeat both Haverhill (6-2 record) and the host Rangers easily.

Sophomore Kristen Munson was the runner-up, 41 seconds behind Guertin in 17:45, while junior Katherine Blais placed third (17:51) and senior Captain Melissa Ying was fourth (17:58).

Also scoring for AHS were senior Captain Abby Clarke (8th, 19:13) and freshman Mary Burbank (10th, 19:15).

Other local competitors included senior Meghan Woo (14th, 19:48), freshman Janel Ricci (15th, 19:54), senior Janine Givens (17th, 20:16), sophomore Robyn Givens (19th, 20:38) and sophomore Merinda Pattullo (21st, 21:40).

Andover men split

The Golden Warriors lost out on a winning season when the newly-instituted tiebreaker rule was used to break a 28-28 deadlock with Methuen.

The Rangers were given the victory because their sixth finisher placed ahead of Andover's sixth finisher.

The locals were once again competing without three of their top seven runners, senior standout Matt Herling sidelined with an Achilles tendon injury, senior exchange student Tuukka Karvonen of Finland shelved by a hip-flexor and junior Scott Peterson nursing shin splints.

Max Minaya of Methuen was the winner of the 2.7 mile race with a 14:19 clocking on his home course.

Andover senior Captain Todd Collins finished second (14:54), while also in the top 10 were senior Captain Donnie Pattullo (4th, 15:18), junior Chris Rillahan (5th, 15:27) and senior Jeff D'Angelo (6th, 15:28).

Freshman Greg Stamm placed 11th in 16:04, and also competing for AHS were senior Geoff Bomba (15th, 16:55), junior Randy Matos (17th, 16:58), junior Chris Desjardins (18th, 17:00) and sophomore Evan Stuart (23rd, 17:19).

WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL

The Andover High women's varsity volleyball team was hoping to clinch its ninth Eastern Mass. Tournament berth in 10 years when it played at Billerica High last night.

The Lady Warriors, faced with a brutal homestretch schedule, improved their chances dramatically with a rousing come-from-behind 2-1 upset of Lawrence recently.

That left the locals (9-8 overall) one victory short of tourney qualification, a win they were still seeking last night after consecutive losses to Haverhill (2-1) and Merrimack Valley Conference Large School Division leader Dracut (2-1).

The regular season concludes with a home match tomorrow against perennial power Chelmsford (3:30), and the finale next Monday (5 p.m.) against Methuen as part of the annual MVC Volleyball Night at Chelmsford High.

Andover 2 Lawrence 1

Coach George Sullivan's crew avenged a 2-0 early-season loss to the Lancers (13-3) with this victory.

Andover battled back from a 7-2 first-game deficit to win, 15-11, dropped the second game, 8-15, and scored the final five points in the deciding game to erase a 14-11 deficit and win 16-14 in overtime.

"This was a huge upset," said Sullivan. "We were hot and cold the whole night, alternating between brilliant play and losing our composure."

Sau Ching Tsoi and Tung Kam Tsoi
Golden House Restaurant

The Golden House Restaurant, just minutes up Route 28 from downtown Andover, is a family-operated restaurant offering Chinese cuisine at its best. Chef/owner Tung Kam Tsoi, with 20 years experience in Cantonese style cooking, works side-by-side with his wife, Sau Ching Tsoi, and daughters, Jessica and Jennifer.

Cantonese house specialties include the beef with mushrooms and boneless spare ribs. The Golden House also offers Szechuan and Mandarin dishes, and the Yu Hsiang style string beans with hot garlic sauce is a favorite among regular patrons. A

Use care when cleaning up basements after the storm

er. And it is likely septic runoff from Andover and other towns up river also washed into the Shawsheen.

Also, several houses in the downtown area had sewage backing into floor, sink, and washing machine drains that are connected to the sewer system. That water was then pumped out into backyards and the streets. So unless property owners are sure none of their sewage connections were backed up, and they are sure no contaminated water came in from outside, they should use care in cleaning up.

Mr. Penney suggests wearing protective clothing, especially rubber boots and gloves. Use a sanitizing or disinfecting agent such as bleach or ammonia, "any antibacterial agents," Mr. Penney said.

"There are all kinds of different bacteria and viruses... that can be transferred by sewage," Mr. Penney said.

Wash down the walls and floors with a 10:1 mixture of water and Clorox or ammonia. And spray the surfaces with a disinfectant such as Lysol or any of the other commercial sprays.

Mr. Penney said the sewage does not release air-borne bacteria, and only direct contact with the liquids presents a problem. He also said dilution is a favorable factor in this case, because of the volume of water that has mixed with the sewage.

Allergies alert

Anyone who is allergic to molds or fungi should be aware that the added moisture could raise havoc with their allergies.

"These kinds of conditions exacerbate" those problems, Mr. Penney said.

Those people should minimize exposure to flooded basements and get them dried out as soon as possible.

Other contamination

Mr. Penney said police and fire officials were doing a good job Tuesday, keeping people from driving or walking through the contaminated river water that swamped the Shawsheen Plaza parking lot. He was concerned that people would walk through it and then enter the stores and restaurants that serve food in that area. But he did not see any problems when he checked the area.

He also said the higher groundwater level may cause some septic systems to fail temporarily, especially any that are marginal.

"A lot of septic systems will be sitting in ground water for days if not weeks," Mr. Penney said.

Marland Place, at Stevens Street, a recently-opened assisted-living complex, had to be evacuated Tuesday morning. Residents went to Wingate nursing home on Andover Street.

Several residents of four homes along North Main Street across from Shawsheen Plaza had been evacuated and were taken to the Senior Center at Whittier Court and from there went to relatives or to hotels. Water had filled their basements.

make our public schools the best they can possibly be."

Mr. Finegold also said although he supports the principles of the 1993 state education reform bill, if elected, he would review how much state aid Andover is receiving relative to other communities. He questions whether the current distribution formula is the best one.

Regarding his issue of expanded community policing, Mr. Finegold said more of Lawrence and areas of Andover such as Memorial Circle and Frye Circle can benefit from the program. The theory behind the community policing program is that it lowers crime by allowing the same officer to patrol one area and get to know the people there.

"The money's already out there. It's a question of using the existing fund and making the best use of that," said Mr. Finegold.

Fox: Kiss good night to current taxes

Mr. Fox said he wants to change state tax collection to encourage people to give to charity and to own a house by allowing state taxpayers to deduct their mortgage interest as they can on the federal tax form. Mr. Fox also supports lowering the state income tax to 3 percent across Massachusetts during the next eight years.

As for downsizing government, he suggested decreasing state employees' benefits so they are more in line with the private sector. For instance, Mr. Fox said a state employee should not be able to save years of unused sick days.

"In my world, most employees do pay you when you're sick, but you can't cash it in" all at once just before retirement, said Mr. Fox.

"I don't think the benefits of state government should be many times greater than the real world," he said.

Mr. Fox also said a state worker found guilty of crime shouldn't be able to resign right before the conviction and still be eligible for job-related benefits.

Bike trails and reducing taxes

At the Oct. 17 debate, both candidates were asked what positive item they would pursue for their constituents.

Mr. Finegold talked about one of his five key campaign issues, building a Merrimack Valley bike and recreation trail that he believes will be used by people of all ages.

"A bicycle trail is nice, but I think the most important thing is to add weight to the Weld administration and try to reduce taxes," said Mr. Fox. "I will support his (Weld's) programs. I think I can be an articulate member of the Republican party and do that. I think I can represent the town and (focus on) taxes and reducing taxes and helping the town in more ways than my opponent."

Mr. Finegold indicated during the debate that voters will be better off voting for a Democrat because they control most of the power in Massachusetts. Mr. Finegold mentioned an appearance that Thomas Finneran, speaker of the state House of Representatives, made with Mr. Finegold in Lawrence during a briefing on the city's com-

Hot state-rep campaign boils over between Finegold and Fox

Mr. Finegold was asked earlier why he had spent around $40,000 for a position that pays less than $50,000.

"I think that just shows the type of support we have throughout the town," said Mr. Finegold. "We have Republicans, we have Independents, and we have Democrats supporting us and I'm proud of that."

Here is how the candidates addressed other matters:

Age issue

"In regards to my age I think it's an asset," said Mr. Finegold, who is 25. "I have what it takes to get the job done. I will represent the people of Andover and Lawrence with the vigor, enthusiasm and work ethic they deserve on Beacon Hill."

"To begin with, I do not think age is an issue," responded Mr. Fox, who is 64. "Neither will I comment on Mr. Finegold's lack of experience. We all start without much experience."

New senior center

The candidates were asked if they support building a new senior center.

"As a senior I respect and understand the problem of seniors probably better than any other candidate in this election," said Mr. Fox, who is only running against Mr. Finegold.

The Republican then commented on an advertisement of Mr. Finegold's that shows him with a senior citizen, by saying, "I noticed you had an ad with your grandmother in it over at your campaign headquarters."

The Finegold campaign said the woman was not Mr. Finegold's grandmother.

Mr. Fox concluded his comments, saying, "But the seniors know how I feel and, more importantly, how my wife feels. She's been very, very active in seniors for more years than probably both of us can add up to. So I'm very pro-senior. You have to be. How can you argue the point?"

"I do support a new senior center and I have been working to make it a reality," said Mr. Finegold. "I think in the next six months to a year it will happen."

munity policing program.

Mr. Finneran endorsed Mr. Finegold, calling him "someone who will be a vocal and effective advocate for his district."

"There are things you can get done being in the majority party," said Mr. Finegold. "I think it would be healthy to have a fiscally-conservative Democrat that can work with the majority to get things done for both Andover and Lawrence."

The Democrat's remarks about being fiscally conservative and independent led Mr. Fox to quip, "I'm still a little confused whether my opponent is running as an Independent or Democratic candidate."

Mr. Fox points to the endorsement of the Citizens for Limited Taxation as proof of his commitment to lowering taxes.

Mr. Finegold characterizes his record as a selectman as proof that he's concerned about taxes. As a selectman, he said he's voted against a business tax break that would have effectively raised taxes on homeowners, and questioned expenditures such as the hiring of another secretary for the town manager.

"I pledge to be an independent voice for the people in my district," Mr. Finegold said during his closing remarks. "A vote for me is a vote for a new generation of leadership, keeping our community on the move."

Quiz show

The candidates demonstrated other differences between themselves when they were allowed to ask each other questions.

Mr. Finegold, who is pro-choice, pushed Mr. Fox to clarify his position on abortion.

Mr. Fox indicated he grudgingly supports the Roe v. Wade decision.

"That is the law of the land. I am forced to support it," he said. "I'm definitely personally pro-life."

Mr. Fox said Monday, "If abortion became a state issue, I'm definitely pro-life."

When his turn came, Mr. Fox tried to pin the troubled school building project on Mr. Finegold, asking him why he hasn't

ESSEX, SS. CIVIL ACTION
(SEAL) Case No. 229305

Kenneth H. Zimble, Trustee of Kenji Realty, et al
VS.
Cormier-Andover, Inc.

TO: any former stockholders, officers, creditors, and any other persons claiming any interest in Cormier-Andover, Incorporated, a dissolved Massachusetts corporation formerly located in Bedford, Middlesex County and said Commonwealth, Yvon Cormier, as he is president, treasurer and clerk of said corporation, now or formerly of Andover, Essex County and said Commonwealth or their heirs, devisees, legal representatives, successors or assigns

You are hereby notified that a complaint has been filed by the above named plaintiffs in which you are named as an interested party. This complaint concerns a certain parcel of land in Andover, Essex County, and said Commonwealth being known as and numbered 4 Stafford Lane; plaintiffs' title to said parcel is clouded by a mortgage given by Kenneth H. Zimble, Trustee of Kenji Realty Trust to Cormier-Andover, Inc. dated May 24, 1982 and recorded with the Essex County Northern District Registry of Deeds in Book 1578, Page 67 pursuant to and subject to the terms and conditions of a certain agreement dated November 24, 1981 between the parties, plaintiffs allege that releases required by said agreement were not delivered by November 24, 1984 therefore nonpayment was required for said Lot and that they are entitled to a discharge of said mortgage to clear the record and seek a judgment to that effect.

This complaint may be examined at the Land Court, Boston, Massachusetts, or a copy obtained from plaintiffs' attorney.

If you intend to make any defense, you are hereby required to serve upon plaintiff's attorney, Emile F. Athanasoulis, Esquire, Zimble & Brettler, LLP whose address is 53 State Street, Boston, MA 02109, answer to the complaint on or before the second day of December, the return day, hereof, and a copy thereof must be filed in this court on or before said day.

If you fail to do so, judgment by default will be taken against you for the relief demanded in the complaint. Unless otherwise provided by Rule 13(a), your answer must state as a counterclaim any claim which you may have against the plaintiffs which arise out of the transaction or occurrence that is the subject matter of the plaintiffs' claim or you will thereafter be barred from making such claim in any other action.

attended building committee meetings.

"I have been asking the tough questions and this summer I (went) to the school almost every day, making sure the school would open on time," said Mr. Finegold.

Then, Mr. Finegold tried to turn the questions around, saying Mr. Fox was absent from 19 of the last 20 Town Meeting nights, including the night money was approved for the multi-million dollar school construction project.

"Where were you?" asked Mr. Finegold.

"I'm not too sure where I (was) those nights. It might have been that I was working on the Samaritans hot line, of which I have done 200-some hours in the last year and a half. It may have been part of my police auxiliary work where I've done 2,000 hours. Or I might have been giving blood of which I have given 65 pints," said Mr. Fox.

"Why I don't attend a meeting? It may be because some of the things that come out of a meeting are never resolved," he said.

In an interview Monday, Mr. Fox suggested there should be more meetings on issues before Town Meeting.

"It (Town Meeting) is almost one step beyond the act of participation," he said. "I think Town Meeting things are pretty much ordained. Maybe it's more important to go to selectmen meetings."

TOWN OF ANDOVER

PLANNING BOARD

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be convened on Tuesday, November 12, 1996, at 9:30 p.m., in the Third Floor Conference Room, Town Office Building, Bartlett Street, on a request of Andover Main Street, LLC as the new owners of property located at 40 Railroad Street to modify two (2) special permits (1995-14 and 1995-15) previously issued by the Board to GN Associates which allowed for the renovation of an existing building and construction of a one-story addition for office and retail use. The modifications would transfer the permits from the original applicants to the new owners of the property. The plans, special permits, and letter of request from the new owners may be examined at the Planning Department between the hours of 8:30 a.m., and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN. (never known to fail.) O most beautiful flower of Mount Carmel, fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. O star of the Sea, help me and show me here you are my mother. O Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to secure me in my necessity (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. O Mary conceived without sin, pray for us who have resorted to thee (3 times). Holy Mary, I place this cause in your hands (3 times). Say this prayer for 3 consecutive days and then you must publish and it will be granted to you. S.D.

TOWN OF ANDOVER LEAF COMPOSTING NOTICE

The Town of Andover leaf compost site at Bald Hill on High Plain Road will open for Andover residents only, on Thursday, October 24, 1996. Residents may drive in to drop off leaves, grass clippings, and shredded yard waste between 8:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays from October 24 thru December 7 weather permitting, except Thanksgiving day. Residents must remove their leaves, grass clippings, and shredded yard waste from whatever container they use to deliver them in. All contaminated loads will be rejected. The area is available for walk-ins at all times, however there are substantial fines for ILLEGAL dumping.

Directions to Bald Hill: Take Lowell St. (Rt. 133) to Greenwood Road (the traffic light just east of the IRS). Take Greenwood Rd. (0.8 miles) north to High Plain Rd. and then take High Plain Rd. (1.0 miles) west to Bald Hill.

The Town of Andover will be conducting curbside leaf collection during the weeks of Nov. 4 to Nov. 8, Nov. 12 to Nov. 16, Nov. 18 to Nov. 23, and Dec. 2 to Dec. 6. Residents are to put their leaves out on their designated trash collection day. Any appropriate size containers may be used for leaves, but if using plastic bags they MUST BE CLEAR PLASTIC BAGS.
